FLAYS RECORD OF GOV. SMALL

Senator Essington Addresses Three Meetings At Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16—Republicans and business men of Peoria and other towns of the sixteenth congressional district gave a hearty welcome to Senator Thurlow W. Essington, Republican candidate for governor at three meetings here yesterday and last night in which he gave an outline of the issue in the campaign.

He was applauded when he assailed the action of Governor Len Small in making the hard road program a political issue and declared that the real issue was whether the Republican party desired continuation of the Small administration, which he said, had brought the utter breakdown of all that meant for efficiency, economy and faithfulness to public trust, or wished to usher in a new administration that stood for efficiency, economy and good government.

FUNDAMENTAL ISSUE.

"The great underlying fundamental issue in this campaign is simply this: Has the administration of Len Small as governor of this great state of Illinois been such as to entitle it to continuance in power for another four years or has it demonstrated the necessity for a change?"

He said: "Will the Republican party, at the April primary 1924, confirm, ratify and adopt as its policies and ideals and aims and hold out to the people of the state of Illinois, at the November election as true Republicanism the record of the Small administration in its pardons of convicted bank robber crooks, alleged jury fixers, convicted panderers, and the communists who were convicted of conspiracy against this government during the time of war, the padding of pay roll, the unequaled extravagance in expenditures of tax monies, the complete breakdown of civil service, the defiance of courts and laws, the dodging of sheriffs and juries, the claim that the king can do no wrong in Illinois, the using of great public improvements and the monies authorized therefor, to build up a political machine, the utter breakdown of all of those things which heretofore meant for efficiency and economy, faithfulness to public trust and the ideals of good government or will the Republican party at the April primary declare in unmistakable tones, that Republicanism stands for none of these things, but rather, for economy, efficiency and good government.

SMALL'S OWN RECORD.

"This record is not of my writing. Len Small and his administration wrote the record and they must stand or fall as it is written. I assume that the people of this state are entitled to know what that record is and I believe they do know."

Use of road patronage as a political club by the Small administration was assailed by the senator. His statement was greeted with applause.

DO NOT MIX

"Politics, cement and gravel do not mix well," he said. "Road construction should be non-political and non-partisan internal improvement for the benefit of all citizens.

This was true when the Republican and Democratic state central committees both supported the $60,000,000 hard road bond issue in 1918.

"However after Groernor Small was inaugurated with the highway department already functioning after organization under Governor Lowden and the funds available on floating the bond issue, he used the distribution of roads as a political club.

"If I am elected my administration will build more roads and better roads at less cost because they will be hard roads and not political roads. They will be placed where they will do the most good."

INDIA PLANS ACTS OF DISOBEDIENCE

National Council to Carry on Non-Co-operation.

Delhi, India, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Indian National Congress in special session has reaffirmed its adherence to non-violent non-co-operation and the boycott of British goods as means toward obtaining self-government. Althought the ban to council-entry was removed, the congress voted to embark upon a definite program of civil disobedience at an early date.

The congress, with an attendance of more than 5,000 stressed the importance of unity between extremists and moderates and between Hindus and Mohammedans in the struggle for home rule.

BETTER ENGLISH IS USED IN BUSINESS

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—The English of sales letters has reached a standard as high as the general standard in advertising and in journalism, according to Mrs. Alta Gwinn Saunders, director of business English work at the University of Illinois.

"I do not maintain that good English is the one test of a good letter nor that it is the most important element of a good letter," Mrs. Saunders asserts. "It is my contention that it is as important to the good letter as is any other element, and that a letter cannot be a good letter until good English is combined with a business mind, good character, pleasing personality, and knowledge of human nature in getting results."

JOHNSON'S HAT GOES IN RING

Politics Liven Up As Senator Follows McAdoo Into Campaign.

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—Two presidential booms emanating from Chicago resounded throughout the country today following announcement by Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California that he was in the contest for nomination as Republican candidate.

His hat dropped into the political ring shortly after that of W. G. McAdoo whose friends let it be known they intended to support him for the Democratic presidential nomination.

JOHNSON STAND.

Senator Johnson launched his boom with a statement, issued after a conference here in which he assailed present policies in domestic and national affairs and enunciated the principles on which his race will be made. He expressed opposition to the league of nation, "and all its subsidiaries" including the world court, and set himself up as a progressive" candidate in contrast to the "ultra conservative" and "ultra radical."

NO SURPRISE.

Washington, Nov. 16—Senator Hiram Johnson's announcement of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination comes as no surprise to political Washington. Leaders of the so-called regular wing of the party in the Senate and House have been expecting it and have been making their campaign plans accordingly.

One of the first results probably will be the announcement of a number of native sons' candidacies from various states, particularly those having presidential preference primary laws.

LODGE FOR COOLIDGE.

Washington, Nov. 16—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, returned today to prepare for the convening of the new congress. He called on President Coolidge and arranged for another appointment later. Commenting on Hiram Johnson for the Republican presidential nomination, he said:

"Senator Johnson and I are close personal friends and I trust that we always shall remain so. I am for Mr. Coolidge for the Republican nomination."

RAIDS CLOSE 600 BUSINESS PLACES

Real Estate Valued At $5,000,000 Under Padlocks

Chicago, Nov. 16—Further "mopping up" of Chicago's remaining wet spots is under way today with ten deputies armed with more than 200 injunctions sealing places recently ordered closed by Federal Judge Cliffe. Padlocking injunctions have closed for one year more than 600 buildings, stores and offices, of an estimated value of $5,000,000.

ARREST STATE SALON.

Chicago, Nov. 16— Joseph Placek, state representative from the ninth district was arrested yesterday on warrant charging violation of the prohibition law. Officers stated he told them a quart of liquor seized in his place of business was for his own use.

WITHIN 10 DAYS.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Nearly 200 injunctions issued against saloons and cafes in the federal court will be served and the places closed within ten days, U. S. Marshal Levy announced today.

Some difficulty has been encountered, he said, due to the fact that some proprietors have sub-leased their places.

Injunctions were issued against violators of prohibition in Aurora, Joliet and other nearby towns.

ILLINOIS N. G. IN GOOD CONDITION

Springfield, Nov. 16—(AP)—Illinois today has more men enlisted in the national guard than at any other time during its history, with the exception of times of emergency, according to Carlos E. Black, adjutant general, who is pushing organization to completion.

The Illinois National Guard had enrolled 491 officers and 7,015 men, a total of 7,506, up to Nov. 1, and enlistment was proceeding rapidly in the units not yet completed, General Black said. The state had more men than this in the guard when the United States mobilized for the World war, but aside from those two emergencies the state has never before had such a large National Guard.

FORBES ON THE WITNESS STAND

Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans Bureau, is shown here on the witness stand before the Senate Investigating Committee, testifying in his own behalf against charges of alleged waste, etc. Members of the committee, seated left to right: Senators David I. Walsh of Massachusettes, David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, and Tasker O. Oddie of Nevada.

FORBES DENIES MISCONDUCT

Vet Bureau Inquiry Traverses Wide Field of Subjects.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The senate veterans' committee today with Former Director Charles R. Forbes on the stand under cross examination, heard further charges, denials and counter charges.

The inquiry traversed a wide field of subjects ranging from hospital contracts to alleged drinking parties and pleasure trips. Forbes continued to deny accusations of misconduct.

REPEATS DENIAL.

Forbes reiterated his denial of any knowledge of a code, which E. H. Mortimer had testified was arranged during the Pacific coast trip in 1922 for the use of C. B. Hurley of the Hurley-Mason company of Tacoma, J. W. Black, of the Black-Thompson company of Chicago, and others.

Forbes said in his presentation of a Harding medal to H. F. Alexander on the steamer Alexander at Tacoma, was not an "impulsive" act as Mortimer had testified.

INSULTED COUPLE.

At San Diego, Forbes said Mortimer "was drunk and insulted General and Mrs. Terry."

"What was your condition?" asked O Ryan.

"I was as sober then as now."

"And Mrs. Mortimer?"

"The same."

Forbes said Mortimer was drunk on another occasion soon after.

James A. McFarland, national commander of the disabled American Veterans next witness, attacked the manner in which evidence had been presented.

MEN DISAPPOINTED

"I must tell you," he said, "that the disabled men are astounded at the misinformation and disappointed at the lack of constructive proposals for improving the condition of the disabled veterans.

"So far as we can see there has nothing whatsoever been developed at the hearing that would justify a conviction.

"I will tell the committee that the disappointment of the disabled men has reached the stage of bitterness, and with little more than two weeks remaining to complete testimony and prepare a report, if congress is to get the results at its opening, we respectfully urge that the committee turn over forthwith to the department of justice all information indicating graft or fraud, and proceed with the relief of these vitally concerned—disabled men."

BALTIC STATES FEAR NEIGHBORS

See Menace in Both Russia and Germany.

Riga, Nov. 16—(AP)—The three new Baltic republics lie like peaceful oases between troubled Germany and Soviet Russia, but, foreign observers in their capitals say, are as yet far from sanguine as to their future.

Latvia, Esthonia and Lithuania, from all surface indications, have passed through various crises common to infantile states, and are lusty children in the family of nations. But each of these baby nations still is haunted by the spectre of a goblin Russia who some day may step in and gobble it up like the giant in Jack and the Beanstalk.

PEACEFUL NOW.

Just now, according to American and other foreign observers at Riga, Reval and Kovno, who base their belief upon first hand information from Moscow, Soviet Russia has no desire for the trouble and war that aggression against these states would mean. In fact some of the more optimistic Russian leaders predict that within a decade or so, the Baltic provinces will willingly join the union of Soviet Socialistic republics as autonomous states.

GEORGETOWN FEELS SHARP EARTHQUAKE

Washington, Nov. 16—Earth tremors of sharp intensity were recorded on the Georgetown university seismograph last night beginning at 11:33. The disturbances which continued until midnight was estimated to have centered about 1500 miles from Washington.

Bank Robbery Suspects Wanted in Christian Co.

Believed Men Who Robbed Aged Roby Jeweler Saturday—Now Held In $77,000 Theft.

Taylorville, Nov. 16—Gordon C. Oyler, O. E. Sample and Thomas Sanders, arrested Thursday on suspicion of being implicated in the $77,000 robbery of the Burnt Prairie State bank Monday, are wanted in Taylorville as suspects in the robbery of J. A. Flemming, an aged jeweler at Roby, last Saturday.

Sheriff Andrew Flesher will keep tab on the proceedings at Harrisburg, and if insufficient evidence is adduced there to hold the men for the robbery of the bank, he will go to Harrisburg and bring them here.

FORMER LOCAL MEN.

Two of the men, Sample and Oyler, are former Taylorville men. Oyler, who is about twenty-five years old, is a son of Smith Oyler, living within three miles of this city, and was reared here. He has not been making his home here for the last year or so, and when arrested Thursday gave his address as Chicago. So far as is known here, he is not married.

Sample also was born and reared here, and is about twenty-four or twenty-five years old. His home is now in Springfield, where he has a wife and two or three children. Both he and Oyler, according to the statement of a local official Friday, have been in trouble before, though not of so serious a character as that on which they are held at Harrisburg. The third man, Saunders, who refused to give his address to the officers who arrested him, is not known here.

HELD UP AGED MAN.

The crime for which the three men are wanted here, as suspects, was committed at Roby Saturday, Nov. 10. On that day three men entered the place of business of J. A. Flemming, an aged and practically helpless man who conducts a watch repairing shop and also keeps some jewelry in stock. They forced the old man to open his safe, from which they took some diamonds and other articles of jewelry. They took no watches, relinquishing them when Mr. Flemming told them that they belonged to customers who had left them for repairs.

The theory of officials is that the three men were employed on farms about Lanesville, where they planned the robbery of the Flemming shop, and then made their way south to Harrisburg, where they were picked up on suspicion of implication in the Burnt Prairie robbery.

"ALL WET" JURY TRY LIQUOR CASE

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Before an admittedly "all wet" jury, witnesses including millionaires and politicians are to take the stand today as the government opens its testimony in the trial of Grommes and Ullrich corporation and ten defendants in connection with an alleged liquor distribution when the company was dissolved.

PROBE WALTON'S PAROLE RECORD

Oklahoma City, Nov. 16—(AP)—The senate court of impeachment delved further today into the pardon and parole record of Governor J. C. Walton in hearing the charge that he abused his clemency powers to provide lucrative fees for political supporters and friends.

The board of prosecution announced it would present additional evidence to show attorneys in many instances collected thousands of dollars for obtaining clemency for their clients.

SEEK KLAN RECORDS.

Defense counsel announced today that it was prepared to go to Atlanta to obtain records of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma City if a subpoena issued for N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the klan in this state, fails to produce them. He was instructed to appear with all Oklahoma records, including a list of the membership.

During the martial law regime it was reported the klan records here had been removed.

LAWS MUST CHANGE TO AID FARMERS

Secretary Wallace Sees the Need of Amendments.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Laws of a number of states must be amended to enable their farmers to take full advantage of the intermediate credits provided by congress in the agricultural credits act, Secretary Wallace announced today.

Iowa is among the states whose laws seem to preclude agricultural cooperative associations from borrowing for their members from intermediate credit banks.

TELEPHONE TAKES PLACE OF KEYS

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16—Telephoning is so rapidly superceding the time-honored brass telegraph key in train dispatching that about half the railroad mileage in the United States now gets train orders by telephone, it was declared by Captain J. W. Gorby, assistant to the president of the National Transportation Institute, in an address here Thursday at the annual convention of the Illinois Telephone association.

Double speed is attained by the use of the telephone instead of telegraphy, said Captain Gorby. Not a single railroad accident has ever been caused as the result of telephone orders, he said.

"I Must Keep My Self Respect"—Galli-Curci

BY J. P. YODER.

(Copyright 1923.)

(Special Correspondent.)

Chicago, Nov. 16—Self respect, rather than artistic temperament, is at the bottom of the merry little tempest which today is rocking Chicago's new civic opera. At least, that is the explanation Amelita Galli-Curci gave today when she was asked the real reason for the differences that have arisen between the Chicago opera management and herself, and which have resulted in her decision to forsake the metropolis for "a more friendly management in New York, at the Metropolitan."

DEPLORE PUBLICITY.

Right here two very, very important facts should be duly recorded. First, that both Mme. Galli-Curci and the Chicago civic opera "greatly deplore the unnecessary and annoying publicity given the matter." It was, of course, a coincidence that Madame and the management used the identical words. Secondly, the management says that what Galli-Curci says ought not to be said, "because it isn't true."

The management says very little beyond that, excepting to state that the diva is unreasonable and thoughtless for the first and only time since 1916, when she made her real debut here.

CHOICE OF OPERA.

All the trouble—or at least all that appears on the surface—results from the management's choice of the opera in which Galli-Curci should open the season. The management chose "Lakme." Herbert M. Johnson, who makes the decision in such matters, wired Mme. Galli-Curci to that effect. Madame replied that she preferred to open in "Dinorah".

"Sorry, but you must open in 'Lakme.'" Mr. Johnson wired back. "To change now would inconvenience others."

TREATED LIKE PUPPET.

And, that was the spark that ignited the diva's spirit.

"Never has an artist been so treated like a puppet," she declared. "They forget that the artist is as much responsible for opera as the management and should not be left out. One might as well take Babe Ruth out of baseball or Dempsey out of prizefighting, if you know what I mean."

PARIS, LONDON NEAR SPLIT

French Attitude Over Frederick Unacceptable to England.

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching the parting of the ways on how to deal with Germany.

France's threatened penalties against Germany if Berlin does not recede from its position on the extradition of the former Crown Prince and re-establishment of full allied military control in Germany are declared in government quarters to be unacceptable to England.

THE PENALTIES.

These penalties are understood to be:

Seizure of more railroads east of the occupied area.

Occupation of Hamburg and Bremen.

ENGLAND'S CONTENTION.

Great Britain holds that the threatened sanctions not only violate the treaty of Versailles but would plunge Germany into a deeper economic and political mire from which it would be impossible to extricate her.

The British government is considering the whole situation with a view of reinstructing its delegates in the council of ambassadors in the light of Premier Poincare's threatened action. There is no indication however, that the cabinet will yield on its policy respecting the return of Frederick William and extension of the allied military measures in occupied Germany.

ARE INTIMIDATORY.

The view prevails among officials here that Poincare's conditions are largely of an intimidatory nature, designed to coerce Germany and force a change of attitude by England.

There appears to be a growing coolness by the government toward France and her recent activities. This reversal of sentiment had its inception in what the British believe to have been open connivance of the French with German separatists. It was intensified when Premier Poincare negatived the effort to join with the United States in reopening the reparations inquiry.

KNOW NOTHING.

Paris, Nov. 16—(AP)—High officials of the French foreign office declared they knew nothing of a plan for the occupation of Hamburg by French as reported by various sources and the idea was declared to be out of the question.

DENIES BLAME.

Paris, Nov. 16—(AP)—Premier Poincare took issue with Premier Baldwin of Great Britain as to who is to blame for the Franco-British differences when he spoke in the Chamber of Deputies today during an interpellation of foreign affairs.

"I cannot let it be said that it is by our fault an agreement has not been reached" he declared.

GERMANS WELCOME FREDERICK HOME

Telegrams Pour in From All Parts of Nation.

Oels, Nov. 16—(AP)—Telegrams welcoming him home and extending the best wishes for the future poured in on former Crown Prince Frederick William at his estate today.

The dispatches come from all parts of Germany and Holland. He has sent a letter to the local authorities saying he has ordered the delivery of an amount of food from his estate for distribution among the poor.

25,000 MINERS ARE KILLED IN 10 YEARS

Two-thirds of Accidents Avoidable, Claim.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16—Two thirds of the fatal and serious accidents in the bituminous coal industry could be prevented by the adoption of safety methods already in successful operation in some mines. Dr. J. B. Andrews, secretary of the American Association for Labor legislation declared in an address at the coal conference of the American Academy of Political and Social science.

"In ten years we have killed nearly 25,000 coal miners, 18,242 of whom are at the bituminous mines, and in addition temporary disabilities resulted in a loss annually of not less than 1,400,000 days of service" he said.

ILLINOIS CIVIL WAR OFFICER DIES

Denver, Colo., Nov. 16—Dr. Samuel S. Smythe, died today of pneumonia. He was born in Galena, Ill., in 1839, and served as captain of Battery F, first Illinois light artillery during the civil war.

Bandits Operate In All Parts of Nation

Illinois Banks, Stores and Mines Suffer; New York and Minnesota Desperadoes Busy.

POLICE ADMIT BANDITS WIN

New York Business Houses Study Means to Combat Menace.

BY ROBERT T. SMALL.

(Copyright, 1923.)

New York, Nov. 16—Virtual admission by the police that they are unable to cope with the new type of bandit infesting the streets of New York City has caused banks, brokerage houses and insurance companies to study the best means of protecting their messengers entrusted with large sums of money and securities.

Police Commissioner Enright puts the blame for so many fatal holdups and highway robberies squarely up to the negligence of the banks and trust companies. The police, he said are not omnipotent. They cannot divine when a bank messenger is to be given $40,000 in bills wrapped up in a piece of newspaper and sent through suburban territory on an elevated train—an easy mark for any highwayman who has been tipped off to the transfer.

ASK FOR HELP.

The police are asking for help in their attempt to run down the robbers after a crime has been committed but to make the work of the highwaymen more difficult and hazardous.

Commissioner Enright has suggested two means of help. The first is that banks and other business houses shall notify the police when the transfer of large sums of money is about to be made so that special guards may accompany the messengers and thus ward off attack. The second is that as few transfers of money as possible be made.

COMMON CRIME.

Payroll holdups, the police say, are not peculiar to New York alone. They are common the country over. Therefore, Commissioner Enright is urging that the practice of paying off employes in cash be abandoned in favor of the check system. The inconvenience of the check system, it is contended, are virtually nil, whereas the dangers of carrying a black bag filled with currency through the crowded streets of the modern city are legion.

There is a certain prejudice against the check system which has been handed down from the days of the corner saloon. In those days it was the custom of most male employes to cash their checks at the saloon. In return for this favor a goodly part of the check was "taken out in trade." Now the saloon has been wiped out in most sections of the country, and, in theory at least, has been wiped out in New York City. Tradesmen everywhere are glad to cash checks for their known customers.

OPPOSE SYSTEM.

Some banks have argued against the check system because of the heavy increase in bookkeeping work such a system would entail upon their clerical force. The payroll check is but a single transaction. Payment by check would involve thousands of individual transactions during the course of the month.

The recent robberies have about convinced the banks that inevitably the check system must be adopted by all large corporations. The police point out that all government and city employes are paid by check and no inconvenience results.

TYPE BAFFLES.

The police are baffled by the new type of criminal. They never yet have been able to solve in any way the famous taxicab tragedy when two policemen were shot from the running board of a yellow machine. The taxi and its driver were never traced. No one knows who was in the cab or why the policemen were murdered. Commissioner Enright is calling for help and needs it if the streets of New York are to be made safe for the people.

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Bandits today smashed plate glass windows in the fashionable Fifth avenue shop of Hickson, Inc. and escaped in an automobile with $50,000 worth of furs.

The robbery which followed the theft of a wagon load of silk from a livery stable occurred while four watchmen were in the store.

OPERATOR HEROINE.

Hoopeston, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—Bandits who cut telephone cables early today apparently planning a bank robbery were thwarted and vanished when Mrs. Addie Farrell, night telephone operator turned in a fire alarm summoning scores of citizens.

Telephone cables communicating with all outside towns were severed and virtually all telephones here were put out of commission. When lights flashed on her switchboard Mrs. Farrell realized something was wrong, sounded the alarm the bandits having overlooked the fire signal wire.

NINE IN BAND.

The rush of citizens to the streets put the intruders to flight before they had shown an indication of the objective of their invasion. They are believed to have nine men in the band equipped with two automobiles.

Severance of the telephone lines, indicated almost certainly according to the authorities that the bandits planned a bank robbery. Five men had been seen camping in a cemetery last evening and later four strangers were observed on the streets.

SEEK NEW ANGLE.

Harrisburg, Ill., Nov. 16—With the arrival today of officers from Springfield to take in charge three suspects arrested in connection with the robbing at Burnt Prairie Monday night in which $77,453 in cash and securities were stolen, it was predicted new developments toward the solution of the crime would ensue.

The three suspects who gave their names as Orville Sample, G. C. Oyler and John Sanders are suspected of having planned to rob the National bank of Carrier Mills.

RECOVER MONEY.

Center City, Minn., Nov. 16—Four hours after he held up and robbed the Shafer State bank of between $4,000 and $5,000 in currency and silver, a man giving his name as Ted Williamson, and his address as Memphis was captured near Nevers Dam ten miles north of here late Thursday afternoon. The money was recovered.

$14,444 PAYROLL.

St. Louis, Nov. 16—Three men are being held here by police Thursday night in connection with the robbery Thursday morning of a $14,444 payroll of the Consolidated Coal company of Collinsville, Ill. The men were seized following discovery of a mud-covered automobile with a suspicious license plate in East St. Louis Thursday afternoon. Efforts to identify the trio so far have failed.

BLOW THREE SAFES.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 16—Safe blowers believed to be gang that has committed many robberies in Northern Illinois in the last four weeks, blew three safes in Leaf River early this morning and escaped with several hundred dollars. One hundred dollars of silver was obtained at the R. Schrieber's restaurant and certificates of deposit and watches from two safes in S. F. Butterfield's pharmacy.

M'CRAY'S ASSETS PUT AT $8,727

Indianapolis, Nov. 16—(AP)—Governor McCray's credit in the assets he turned over to a committee several weeks ago for administration for the benefit of his creditors aggregate only $8,727.45, except for two or three items classed as "indefinite" according to a letter sent to creditors by the committee, which was made public Thursday night.

The contents of the letter did not become known until Thursday night, although it was under date of Nov. 10.

A wide variance with the estimate of Governor McCray, presented when he called his creditors to propose the trust agreement, is disclosed by the committee's statement. The governor had stated that his holdings were worth about $800,000 more than all his liabilities.

FREE SWISS HELD FOR RUSS' SLAYING

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 16—(AP)—Maurice Conradi, Swiss engineer, and his alleged accomplice, Paul Polounine, a Russian, were acquitted by a jury today of the assassination of Vaslav Vorovsky, Soviet Envoy to the second Lausanne conference shot and killed here May 10.

TUSCOLA COUPLE TAKE NUPTIAL VOWS

Pretty Home Wedding on Thursday Afternoon.

Tuscola, Nov. 16 — Miss Flossie Richardson and Merl Kittle, both of Tuscola, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, who live on North Park street, at four o'clock Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. M. Hoel of the North Side Christian church. Miss Ruby Albritton and Wayne Ernst were the attendants to the couple at the marriage. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to quite a number of friends and relatives who were present at the wedding.

Both of the young people are well known and respected here. Mr. Kittle is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kittle, farming people who live north of Tuscola. For some time he has been employed in the plant of the Illinois Specialty Company here, and has gained the reputation of being a very dependable, industrious and thrifty young man. Plans had been made for holding a reception for the newlyweds at the home of the Kittles Friday, and they will go to housekeeping in Tuscola in a short time.

AGED WOMAN HONORED.

Several of the friends of Mrs. Emma Craft gave the aged woman a little surprise at the home on the south part of town Thursday evening. Mrs. Craft is the widow of Dr. Craft, a dentist who was one of the pioneer professional men of the city, and who was well known to all of the early resident of the place. Mrs. Craft spends her winters with relatives in St. Louis, but each summer returns to Tuscola, where she lives in her home until the weather begins to get cold. She expects to leave for St. Louis within the next few days.

TO SEND OUT BASKETS.

The ladies of Sunday school class No. 24, at the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon for their regular monthly social at the home of Mrs. L. O. Hackett, the teacher. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Benjamin F. Kagey, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Mills McKown, Mrs. William Thompson was the leader of the lesson study which was on the subject of "Community Recreation." The class decided to send out Thangsgiving baskets again to needy families of the town. During the winter months the hour for the monthly meetings will be 2 p. m.

Thomas I. McNeill and wife of Maitland, Mo., arrived here Thursday afternoon for a visit at the home of Mr. McNeill's brother, James W. McNeill and wife. The Missouri people are enroute to Florida to spend the winter, and stopped off here.

COUNTY COURT POSTPONED.

The Douglas county court, which was to have convened next Monday morning for the November term, will be postponed by Judge D. H. Wamsley until the first Monday in January. This action is taken because of the fact that the circuit court will be in session at that time, and here are some important cases on in the circuit court. The first to be heard, unless it is for some reason postponed will be the re-hearing of the Ernst case. It is said the county court will simply meet and then take the necessary steps for a adjournment until the date that will be named.

STOLEN CAR FOUND.

The Ford Coupe which was stolen from the streets of Tuscola Nov. 7, was located this week at Mulberry Grove, Ill., where it had been left in a garage. STRONGER BEER AND CHEAPER LIGHT FOR STOCKHOLM PEOPLE

Stockholm, Nov. 16— (P) —The old adage that troubles come not singly has been reversed in Sweden; at least, that is what the bulk of the population in Stockholm think. One day they learn that the charges for gas and electricity will be greatly reduced during the winter, the next that water rates also will be cut, and the third that beer is to be made stronger. And all these reports are true.

L. N. COPE, 72, CONTRACTOR, DIES

Had Been in Ill Health Several Months.

HERE FOR 43 YEARS

Widely Known for Buildings Erected.

Lee N. Cope, 646 West Macon street, one of the best known contractors in central Illinois and a resident of Decatur for the last forty-three years, died Thursday night at the Decatur and Macon County hospital. He was seventy-two years old last May. His death was caused by kidney trouble.

Mr Cope had not been in good health for several months, but he did not consider his condition serious.

L. N. COPE.

He had even considered making his usual fall motor trip to his farm near Gulfport, Miss., to spend the winter as he was in the habit of doing each winter for several years. He had not left his home at 646 West Macon street for ten days but was not confined to his bed and he expected soon to be feeling all right again. It was not until forty-eight hours before his death that he considered his condition serious and then he went to the hospital.

BORN IN EAST.

Mr Cope was born near Allentown Pa. May 7, 1851. When he was one year old the family started west. They first settled in Ohio and then moved to Indiana, but after a short stay there they moved to Richland county, Illinois. Mr Cope and Miss Martha Gaskin of Bridgeport were married and they came to Decatur in 1880. This has been their home ever since. He is survived by his wife and three children, Roy M. Cope and George Cope of Decatur and Mrs. Edith James of Gulfport, Miss.

SUCCESSFUL CONTRACTOR.

Lee Cope in addition to being a successful contractor in Decatur, was also known as such in several large cities where he had erected some important buildings. He was public spirited and progressive and stood high in the community. In 1921 and 1922 he served in the city council as an alderman from the Third ward. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge and the Decatur club. Of late years it had been his practice to visit the club daily and he was one of the most regular in attendance of any of the members.

Mr. Cope was in the habit of assuming heavy responsibilities from the time he was a boy. When the civil war broke out his father enlisted and Lee, being the oldest of the children, remained at home and filled the place as head of the family. At the close of the war the father returned home and Lee began an apprenticeship as a brick mason. He not only became proficient in his own line of work, but gained an intimate knowledge of building work in general, and in 1880 he came to Decatur.

CITY GROWING.

Already this little city had begun to show signs of future greatness. The first coal mine had been in operation but a short time, the Furniture factory, Coffin factory, Chambers, Boeing & Quinlan factory, Haworth's wagon factory, the Novelty Works and other industries were humming and even then there was talk of paving the streets.

Decatur offered opportunities for the working man. Mr Cope came as a journeyman brick mason and it was not long until he had acquired the capital necessary to enable him to start in a modest way as a general contractor. In 1884 he was joined by his brother, A. H. Cope, and as Cope Bros. they continued as partners in the contracting business for twelve years, A. H. Cope retiring from the firm in 1896.

LIKED BIG WORK.

L. N. Cope continued in business alone for several years, and was a success. Big work had always appealed to him and he gradually got away from the smaller contracts and went after the big ones, such as churches, school houses and public buildings, and he built many of the most pretentious buildings in Decatur and other cities in central Illinois. When his son, Roy M. Cope, had finished school he joined his father and the business was conducted under the firm name of L. N. Cope & Son.

They were the successful bidders for the new dam and the sewage disposal plant and other large work. Something over a year ago L. N. Cope retired from the firm and left it in the hands of his son, who had long been associated with the firm, became a partner in the business, which has since been conducted under the name of Cope & Fisher.

L. N. Cope had the pride of an artist in his work. When he put up a building it was there to stay, for he was building and maintaining a reputation at the same time.

Arrangements for the funeral await word from the daughter, Mrs. James, of Gulfport, Miss., announcing the time of her arrival. The body was removed to the Dawson & Wikoff undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

STATE OFFICERS AT REBEKAH RECEPTION

Program Given in Odd Fellows' Hall Honoring District Warden.

About two hundred attended the Rebekah reception given Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall, 143 North Main street, honoring Mrs. Myrtle Randall, district warden, and Mrs. Bertha Ives, who is one of the state trustees. Mrs. Mary Lane, district president, and Mrs. Irene Cooper of St. Louis, past state president, and Mrs. H. Duffner of Clinton were present for the reception.

The officers were introduced by the committee in charge, Mrs. John Randall, Mrs. Orpha Herman, Mrs. Myrtle Gear, Mrs. Cora Wacaser, Mrs. Bessie Baker, Mrs. S. O'Laughlin. Mrs Virginia Jones and Mrs. Rosa Ward, and pink roses were presented to Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Ives and Mrs. Randall.

Little Mary Jane Ives and Clyde Randall, in behalf of Mrs. Ives, presented flowers to Mrs. Ives' mother, Mrs. Loretta Kelso, Mrs. Mary Lane, Mrs. Grace Clark, vice president of the district, Mrs. Huff, secretary, and Mrs. Eva Kilpatrick who were instrumental in first arranging for the reception.

A program was given which included musical numbers by Miss Mable and Miss Marie Wacaser, Miss Pearl Geer and Gerald McGuire and the Baker and Cairnes children, and a reading by Miss Mayes.

Refreshments were served.

DISCUSS JEWS AND LITERATURE

Emanuel Rosenberg Appears Before University Club.

Quoting from Ben Hecht, Maxwell Rodenheim and Louis Untermeyer to substantiate his statements that the Jew through the characteristics of his mind is "hotly human" and therefor in constant social revolt Emmanuel Rosenburg read a most interesting paper on the contributions of the Jews to American literature to the members of the University club at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night.

During the great war the Jew of the different nations fought "for the home he never had" and just because of this lack of a national home the Jew is the great internationalist of the human race.

DISCUSS RACE.

Why the Jewish intellectual should be in this state of insurgency was discussed by Mr. Rosenburg as well as by many of those present, the unusual development of the genius for music among the Jews being commented upon particularly by Edward Powers.

Mr. Rosenburg seemed to lay much of the development along social, literary and musical lines of thought among the Jews to their religious trend, their belief in a God of dignity and power, and he expressed the belief that the greatest of the Jewish writers and artists come from the orthodox Jewish families where that religious element still predominates.

CLEAR $185 TO BUY PICTURES

Two Hundred Pictures At Roosevelt J. H.

The art exhibit and program presented in the Roosevelt Junior high school Thursday evening were said by many to be the best entertainment ever presented by the school and especially at the low price of twenty cents. More than $185 was cleared by the school and this will be used to buy pictures. The art exhibit was opened at 5:30 and at 8 o'clock a program was given in the auditorium.

About 200 pictures were on exhibit, including copies of famous paintings. There were between 950 and 1,000 paid admissions while more than 1,000 viewed the exhibit.

GIVE GOOD PROGRAMS.

The numbers of the program were exceptionally good and varied. The playlet, "The Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," coached by Miss Norma Connor, was given by the dramatic society, the Quill and Bauble. Felix Manley had the lead as "Boy," and Dolores Eschelman was the "Queen," while Dale Davidson played the part of the "Headsman." The other parts also were well taken. Several tableaux of well known paintings were presented, among them being, "Boy with the Torn Hat," "Song of the Lark," "Angelus," "Whistler's Mother," and "Spirit of '76." Appropriate music was played for each of these and the children who presented the picture, were very good.

Miss Margaret Kuhle gave a whistling solo and responded with an encore. Felix Manley and Dale Davidson presented a comedy sketch, featuring the song "Reuben and Rachel," with the former taking the part of the girl.

GLEE CLUBS SING.

The Girls' and Boys' glee clubs each appeared for the first time in public, under the direction of Miss Mary Bielhen. The boys were accompanied by Everett Parkinson and the girls by Jane Stewart.

NEW ACCOUNTING FIRM ORGANIZED

Henry B. Curry and Robert J. Murphey In Partnership.

Henry B. Curry, former internal revenue inspector in the income tax unit of the Springfield district, and Robert J. Murphey, certified public accountant, have formed a partnership and will engage in the general practice of accounting under the firm name of Murphey and Curry in the office occupied by Mr. Murphey in the Millikin building.

Mr. Curry resigned his position with the internal revenue department this week and took up his duties in the new firm Friday morning. Both members of the firm were former Millikin students. Mr. Murphey attended Millikin for two years and then went to Wharton School of Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania where he was graduated in 1922. He opened his office in Decatur in July of that year. He is also instructing classes in advanced accounting at Millikin. Mr. Curry left Millikin to enter the army during the war, was commissioned and served overseas for seventeen months. On his return he again entered Millikin and was graduated with the class of 1920. He later attended the income tax school conducted by the Fedeal Treasury department in Washington.

New Chinese Garments Come

Placed on Exhibit At the Y. W. C. A.

Some new Chinese garments arrived Thursday for the exhibit at the Y. W. C. A. They came from Miss Mabel Dannuser, secretary in China. A bride's wedding dress, a Y. W. C. A. girl's costume, a small chinese boy's outfit with shoes to match all of the costumes were sent by Miss Dannuser. Along with the dress of the bride came an elaborate head set in yellow, red, green with trimmings of silver. The costume is a bright red and blue combination with silborate embroidery work on the front. The skirt consists of two panels with a strip of embroidery down the front.

The Y. W. C. A. girls costume is one of plain white with a little blue on it. The child's suit had a waist of bright red with much embroidery and the trousers of an equally bright blue. The little slippers were also embroidered with an animal's head at the toes.

RESUME BORING OF LINCOLN NO. 3

Same One Opens Valve of No. 1 Well Releasing Oil.

Boring at the Lincoln oil well No. 3 northwest of the city has been resumed after a shutdown of two or three days waiting for new cable. The new well is now at a depth of about 500 feet. Officials of the company report that some one evidently opened up the valve on Well No. 1 in that same vicinity Sunday allowing several barrels of oil to escape.

It is believed that whoever the inquisitive person was, he must have been showered with oil when he opened the valve for one is almost certain to get such a dose on opening the valve. It is said the company has determined that well No. 1 is able to put out fifteen barrels of the crude oil a day but at present market prices, it would not be profitable to operate a single well.

RETURN NOTES TO BACKERS OF FAIR

Meeting to Be Held Saturday Night to Hear Reports.

Return of their notes for $25 each, given by the 135 men who stood back of the Macon County fair this year, will be made at the meeting of these guarantors which will be held Saturday night at the Farm Bureau building Saturday night.

Reports on the financial side of the fair held last summer on the Downing tract north of Decatur will be made and plans for the fair which will be held next fall on the newly-leased grounds about two miles west of the city limits on the hard road will be talked over.

Plans for a campaign for memberships in the Macon County Fair association at $10 each will be made as a basis for financing the permanent fair which is to be established here.

While the lease on the ninety-three-acre tract of land on which the fair will be held does not actually begin until next March, it is hoped that the ground can be secured in time to do some of the rough work on the half-mile track this winter.

NAME W. H. DILL BEN HUR DEPUTY

W. H. Dill was appointed deputy for Triumph Court No. 17, Tribe of Ben Hur, by the state manager, L. M. Hundley, in the meeting held Thursday evening. Mr. Dill was recently elected secretary of the organization and is considered well qualified to fill both offices. He is well liked among the members. Two candidates were initiated Thursday evening.

SAYS PEOPLE WILL CUT SECOND WISDOM TEETH AT 100 YEARS; ATHLETES WILL BE AT BEST WHEN REACHING CENTURY MARK

Decatur Drug Co. Distributes Compound Known as "Pepgen" That Has Already Caused Scores To Feel Many Years Younger—Invalids Get Well and Weak Grow Strong.

NOT EXPENSIVE BUT IS POWERFUL AND SAFE

Monroe Street Man Says: "Pepgen Gave Me a New Lease On Life. In Three Weeks After I Started Taking It I Felt Ten Years Younger."

From Paris comes news of recent date that two great physicians have caused old "Father Time" to worry about how he is to hold his job. The aged say they actually feel like they are growing young. One of these physicians operates by injecting into the veins of the infirm a small quantity of blood taken from a husky human being of tender years.

The other physician has accomplished marvelous results by grafting new glands into those whose span of life seemed well near spent and made them glow with the bloom of vigorous man and womanhood.

Column after column of news, teeming with interest, in regard to this method of treatment has been printed in newspapers, magazines and scientific journals throughout the world. Perhaps some day we will all be cutting another set of wisdom teeth when we are one hundred years old. At such an age our athletes may be at their best. In this era of aeroplanes, radio and wireless who knows what may happen?

There is great merit in treatments that stimulate glandular system because they rid the body of poisons that break down the tissues, harden the veins and corrupt the blood supply. It is generally conceded that the best gland treatment is that which stimulates the glands originally born in the body by means of substances secured from living plants whose cells actually inclose "bottled sunshine."

The all wise Providence, in creating the world, no doubt, provided a remedy for every ill and it is a paramount fact that old "Dame Nature" is the best doctor after all. The manufacturers of Pepgen have analyzed products from seventeen different countries to prove this doctrine. The most logical way to eradicate premature old age, rheumatic pains, dyspepsia and other unfriendly legacies that have imposed themselves, as disease, upon humanity is to take a medicine with alterative properties, such as Pepgen.

That Pepgen is a wonderful medicine is confirmed by statements from hundreds who have used it and who recommend it in highest terms of their own free will and accord.

T. E. Snyder, with the Mueller Mfg. Co., who lives at 930 Monroe street, this city, said yesterday.

"Pepgen has given me a new lease on life. While I have taken it only about three weeks I actually feel ten years younger, than before I started. I was in a terrible run down condition. Several years of stomach trouble had weakened every nerve, gland and organ in my body. Finally I was attacked by neuritis which caused pains in my shoulders and neck. The lightest tasks completely tired me out.

"Sometimes even the sight of food made me sick. Since taking Pepgen I am like another person. I have more endurance I can do more work. I take greater interest in everything around me. When night comes I am assured of sound, restful, refreshing sleep.

recommendations for publication but I feel that I would be neglecting my duty towards my friends and fellow citizens if I failed to indorse Pepgen."

W. R. Cooper, a well known scientist and research worker, direct from the Pepgen Laboratory is now at The Decatur Drug Company. He invites every person who desires to learn more about Pepgen to call on him. Consultation is free.

The genuine Pepgen is obtainable in Decatur only at the above mentioned pharmacy. It is also obtainable at one leading drug store in every neighboring town. Following is a partial list of nearby dealers.

MATING IN THE WILDS

by OTTWELL BINNS

ILLUSTRATED BY ... ROBERT W. ...

COPYRIGHT ALFRED A. KNOPF, INC. ... SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Hubert Stane, just out of prison, where he served a term for forgery, visits a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company. Stane meets Gerald Ainley, friend of brighter days, and a midnight meeting is agreed upon between the two men.

One of the governors of the Hudson Bay Company arrives at the post and Ainley, who is an employe, goes to welcome him. Stane makes the acquaintance of a beautiful Indian girl. Because Ainley promises to visit Stane's camp late at night, the latter goes to his little canvas tent to await the coming of his one-time friend.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Away to the north the sky flushed with crimson glory then the sun shot up red and golden. A new day had broken, and Stane had watched through the brief night of the Northland summer for a man who had not appeared and he was now assured, would not come.

He laughed bitterly, and rising kicked the fire together, threw on fresh fuel, and after one look towards the still sleeping Post, returned to the tent, wrapped himself in a blanket, and shortly after fell asleep.

Three hours later he was awakened by a clatter of voices and the clamor of barking dogs, passing from sleep to full wakeness like a healthy child. Kicking the blanket from him he slipped on his moccasins and stepped outside where the source of the clamor at once manifested itself. A party of Indians had just beached their canoes, and were exchanging greetings with another party, evidently that whose tepees stood on the meadow outside the fort, for among the women he saw the Indian girl who had fled through the willows after encountering him. He watched the scene with indifferent eyes for a moment or two, then securing a canvas bucket went down to the river for water, and made his toilet. That done, he cooked his breakfast, ate it, tidied up his camp, and lighting a pipe strolled into the enclosure of the Post. In the square itself stood the plump gentleman who had landed the day before, talking to a cringing half-breed, whilst a couple of ladies with him watched the aborigines outside the gate with curious eyes. Stane glanced further ahead. Two men were busy outside the warehouse, a second half-breed sprawled on the ... by the store, but the man for whom he had waited through the night was not in sight.

With a grimace of disappointment he ... towards the store. As he did so a ... mellow laughter ... turning swiftly he saw the man whom he was looking ... round the corner of the warehouse accompanied by a girl who ... at some remark of ... her companion. Stane halted in his tracks and looked at the pair who were perhaps a dozen yards or so away. The monocled Ainley could not but be aware of his presence yet except that he kept his gaze resolutely averted he gave no sign of being so. But the girl looked at him frankly and as she did so, Hubert Stane looked back, and caught his breath as he had reason to.

Her gray eyes met Stane's quite frankly without falling, then turned ... to her companion, and Stane watching saw her speak, and as Ainley flashed a swift glance in his direction and then replied with a shrug of his shoulders, he easily divined that the girl had asked a question about himself. They passed him at half a dozen yards distance, Ainley with his face set like a flint, the girl with a scrutinizing sidelong glance that set the blood fleeting in Stane's heart. He stood and watched them until they reached the wharf, saw them step into a canoe, and then, both of them paddling, they thrust out to the broad bosom of the river.

Not till then did he avert his gaze and turn again to the store. The great man of the company was still talking to the half-breed, and the other half-breed had risen from his seat and was staring into the store. He looked round as Stane approached him.

"By gar," he said enthusiastically, "dat one very fine squaw girl dere."

Stane looked forward through the open doorway, and standing near the long counter, watching a tall Indian bartering with the factor, saw the beautiful Indian girl from the neighboring camp. He nodded an affirmative and seeing an opportunity to obtain information turned and spoke to the man.

"Yes, but that girl there with Mr. Ainley—"

"Oui M'sieu. But she no squaw-girl. She grand person who make se tour with se governor."

"And Mr. Ainley, what is he doing at Fort Malsun?"

"Ah, M'sieu Ainley! He also is se great man. He is to be among the governors—one day. He also visits se posts, and will no doubt travel with se governor whose protege he is."

Stane made no vocal reply to this. He nodded carelessly and passed into the store. Factor Rodwell looked round as he entered, and surveyed him with a measuring eye, as if taking stock of a new acquaintance, then gave him a curt nod and resumed his barter with the Indian. His assistant being also busy for the moment, Stane turned towards the Indian girl whose liquid eyes were regarding him shyly, and addressed her in her native dialect.

"Little sister, why did you run from me yesterday?"

"I had never seen such a man before."

"Never seen a white man before!" he cried in mock amazement.

"I did not say that I had never seen a white man before. I have seen many. The priest up at Fort of God, the doctor priest at the Last Hope, the factor there, and M'sieu Ainley who came to our camp yesternight. And there is also this fat man they call the governor a great chief, it is said; though he does not look as such a great one should look. Yes, I have seen many white men, but none like thee before."

Hubert Stane was routed once more by the girl's directness, but strove to recover himself by a return of compliments.

"Well," he laughed, "for that matter there are none so many like thyself in the world. I wonder what thy name is?"

The girl flushed with pleasure at the compliment, and answered his question without reserve

"I am Miskodeed."

"The Beauty of the Spring! Then thou art well-named, little sister!"

The girl flushed with pleasure. The flame that had lept in her dark eyes at their first meeting burned once more, and where, but for an interruption, the conversation would have drifted can only be conjectured. But at that precise moment the tall Indian called to her.

"Miskodeed"

The girl moved swiftly to him and with a gesture that was almost royal the Indian pointed to a pile of trade goods heaped upon the long counter. The girl gathered as much as was possible in her arms, and staggered with her load from the store, and as Factor Rodwell nodded to him, Hubert Stane moved up the counter, and began to give his order.

It was quite late in the afternoon when the opportunity he sought was given to him. Impelled by the merest curiosity he had strolled over to the Indian tepees and had there encountered Miskodeed teaching a puppy-dog tricks. He had stopped to speak to her, and was still engaged in a rather one-sided conversation, when the sound of English voices caused him to turn round.

The governor's party, accompanied by the factor, was moving towards the tepees.

The party drew nearer. Stane was conscious of its attention, and the blood in Miskodeed's face came and went in a manner that was almost painful. Any one looking at them, and noting the apparent absorption of the man and the certain embarrassment of the girl, must have utterly miscomprehended the situation, and that was what happened, for a moment later, the sound of a laughing feminine voice reached him.

"Behold an idyll of the land!"

He looked up, with an angry light in his blue eyes. The party was just passing, and nearly every pair of eyes was regarding him curiously. And one pair, the gray eyes of the girl who had been with Ainley, met his in level glance, and in them he saw a flicker of contempt. That glance sent the blood to his face, and increased the anger which had surged within him at the laughing remark he had overheard. Ainley was among these people, and come what might he would have speech with him before them all. He stepped forward determinedly; but Ainley, who had been watching him closely, anticipated his move by falling out of the group.

"Don't be a fool, Stane! You'll do yourself no good by kicking up a dust here. I couldn't come last night, but tonight at the same time I will not fail."

He turned and moved off again before Stane could reply, and as he joined the English girl, the latter inquired in a surprised voice. "You know that gentleman, Mr. Ainley?"

Stane caught the question, but the answer he did not hear, though he could guess its purport and found no pleasure at the thought of what it would be.

"HE DROPPED LIKE A MAN STRICKEN DEAD.

Again the midnight sun found him sitting behind his smoke-smudge, listening. All the songs and cries of the wild faded into silence and still Ainley had not come. Then he caught the sound of light feet running, and looking up he saw Miskodeed hurrying towards him between the willows. Wondering what had brought her forth at this hour he started to his feet and in that instant he saw a swift look of apprehension and agony leap to her face.

"Beware, my brother—"

He heard no more. A man rose like a shadow by his side, with lifted hand holding an ax-shaft. Before he could move or cry out the shaft descended on his uncovered head and he dropped like a man suddenly stricken dead. When he came to himself the rosy Northland night had given place to rosier dawn, and he found that he was lying, bound hand and foot, at the bottom of a Peterboro' canoe. There were three Indians in the canoe, one of whom he recognized for Miskodeed's father, and after lying for a few minutes wondering what was the meaning of the situation in which he found himself he addressed himself to the Indian.

RUTHRAUFF MAY BE RIGHT.

Commissioner Ruthrauff is at the front with the suggestion that we take down our cluster lights and in their place put one larger lamp on a post. At present these posts are topped with five smaller lamps.

We have taken on the habit of looking for five lamps when we gaze on one of these posts. If one of these is out of commission we sometimes call up the department and tell about it, showing that our expectations have been geared to the five-lamp standard.

There may be considerable merit in what Mr. Ruthrauff has to say about the desirability of a one-lamp standard. It can be made to furnish more light, and doubtless the cost of upkeep is much less. The only objection that comes to mind is that if the one lamp goes out of business there will be utter darkness in that immediate vicinity.

But on the whole, one is inclined to the feeling that Mr. Ruthrauff makes out a pretty strong case. Many of the leading streets in the city are altogether without cluster lights, and this hasn't caused any special yearning in people who live on those streets. It is a demonstration that we can get along comfortably with fewer lamps, provided those we have are loaded with more candle power.

One is not even sure the cluster light is possessed of great wearing qualities in the ornamental line. They were mighty pretty the first night they were turned on; but it is something else to have them as a steady diet all the nights of the year. It takes a high order of genius to devise and install a spread of splurge that will wear.

THE SAME IN NEW YORK

The bandit does about as well in the largest city as in the smallest hamlet.

This time two of that style of gentry turned themselves loose in Brooklyn, part of Greater New York, shot two bank messengers who offered resistance, grabbed over $40,000, and then made a clean getaway in a crowded thoroughfare.

The messengers were armed, but didn't have time to pull their guns. They started to pull, but were done for before they could complete the empty gesture. Possibly they were pretty handy men with a gun, but the bandits refused to wait for a demonstration.

And so we learn they put on as woolly a wild-west performance in the heart of New York city as anywhere out along the edges of the prairie. It is just another reminder that these bandits are having things their own way, no matter where they pitch the scene of their little play. They do not need to lay off for a minute of the day because they find themselves in New York, where cops are thickest and also the "finest."

Two bank messengers are dead and $40,000 is gone; and also the bandits live to raid and kill another day. Their experience in this instance will serve only to make them bolder for the next encounter.

Some day a way will be devised to head them off.

FORBES IS AWAY OFF.

Charles R. Forbes seems inclined to rest his defense on the statement that he is being made the victim of a giant conspiracy to ruin him socially and politically.

It isn't likely this statement will carry him far, that is in the direction he would like to go. In this day and age large numbers of men do not conspire to ruin another politically or socially. In olden times they may have done a thing of that kind, though we doubt it; but surely in our time men find something else to do.

A man should be careful about [illegible] understand one or two men entering into a conspiracy to trim another, for in this case there may be promise of handsome profit for the plotters. But not even this measure of conspiracy is to be expected where there is no profit in sight.

It is possible that Mr. Forbes is innocent of the many grave charges made against him; but we are entirely sure he is all wrong when he breaks out and begins to yell widespread conspiracy. No longer is the world regulated in this fashion.

CHANCES AT LEAST AS GOOD.

Frank O. Lowden of this state says he is not a candidate for president. Even at this he may do better than four years ago, when he was a candidate and had an organization that in spots exercised enthusiasm somewhat at the expense of discretion.

This time there will be no organized effort on behalf of Mr. Lowden. Several people will be filled with a desire to see him made the candidate of his party; but they will be without the "sinews of war," so will not make a great lot of noise.

At least this means that no mistakes will be made in the conduct of a preliminary campaign for Mr. Lowden, for there will be no campaign. Any appeal he may make to the national convention will come as a result of his rating as a man of parts and capacity. One can imagine such appeal in certain contingencies; and if it should happen that way there will be no "scandals" to destroy its effect.

In all this there isn't much of a chance for Mr. Lowden to get the nomination, but at least it will be as good as the one of four years ago. The boosters made a lot of noise at that time, but that is as far as they got. And surely the noise and attendant publicity were not worth what they cost in cold dollars.

GOOD THINGS FALL DOWN.

It occurs to some of us that even cold storage isn't working out according to plans and specifications. When it was introduced to the world it was touted as a good thing that would distribute supply throughout the year, ironing out the peaks, crags and hills that we had when seasonal overproduction fell upon us. Cold storage was to maintain a fair level of prices and offerings of perishable products through the year, something that had been sought through the centuries.

But the big egg case in Chicago shows this is not the way it is working. Somebody is employing storage to keep a fair supply off the daily kitchen market, doing this at a time when there are plenty of eggs. Of course the purpose is to gather a big profit by creating an artificial scarcity when in fact there is nothing of the kind.

They didn't mention this when they first introduced cold storage to our notice. It may be this thing never entered the minds of the pioneers. We don't lay any blame on them, for of course they could not foresee the quality of some of the storage men who were to follow them in the business.

Cold storage is all right and should be made to work to the benefit of all of us; but it does seem that even when a good thing is devised there are chances that must be taken, for always there is some one around who wants to collect all the traffic will stand.

EVERYBODY SEEMS WILLING.

So far as heard from, members of our legislature feel we could get along as well, better in fact, with general sessions limited to 100 days or less. A majority of them think less than 100 is the desirable and profitable limit, if we are going to make a change.

These gentlemen could go to Springfield and limit the session to 100 days or less—that is there is nothing in the law to prevent them. But this they don't do, and it isn't at all likely they ever will. If we want this better thing, it is pretty sure it will come only after the public makes a move to get it. Blessings unasked are never showered on us.

It will not disappoint members of the legislature to limit the length of sessions—but they wish the public to take the initiative. The prospect is the matter will rest right there.

PLEASANTER RIDE COMING.

Governor Small says that in Illinois we have no billboards on state roads, that they are not permitted.

This, if correct, is a change of importance—and we don't know why we say so. Many of us have been over some of these roads and never noticed the billboards were gone. But come to think of it, we don't recall they were present. One would be pretty sure to notice them if they were at the roadside, so it must be they are gone.

We are delighted to have the change called to our attention; next [illegible] will be pleasanter.

Which Kind of a Daddy Are You?

The allopaths insist that Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer is a whole lot of title for just a homeop "Doc."

Somebody says the country is eating more sauer kraut, and the thing does taste as if a little "kick" had been put in the cabbage.

When you go out in the country and see these "No Hunting," signs it means to keep right along on the straight road and don't wander off.

Mr. Essington is coming some day in December to say "How do you do," and to promise that he will be along later with a speech.

The French have a gun that shoots sixty miles, and in the cause of preparedness we must now get up one that will do seventy.

A baseball league is hanging on to Mike Sexton, who still seems unable to get it in his head he is always drafted for life.

When Madame Amelita Galli-Curci and a Chicago gas magnate meet it is well to see that the storm cellar is in repair.

Wesleyan's answer to our animadversions and rebukes is to put on two gala days the very next week—rubbing it in.

The life of a bank messenger is loaded with distress and dangers, but then it is also a short one.

was a member of the Klan, but they don't claim he stayed in good standing.

Ten Years Ago Today in Decatur

NOVEMBER 16, 1913.

The Constantine jubilee closed at St. Patrick's Catholic church with more than 1,000 members receiving Communion.

Lamonte A. McFarland, better known as "Monte," one time manager of the Decatur Three-I league ball team, died in Peoria.

Decatur was again planning to make a fight to get the Odd Fellows' annual grand lodge meetings away from Springfield.

Ten minute car service was started on East Eldorado street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

A large shaper for the machine shop at Millikin University was received at the C. H. and D. freight house.

The people of St. Paul's German Lutheran church had given $3,000 for the new school and only $1,000 more was needed.

Max Atlass received a total of about 13,000 pounds of turkey.

"VASSAR GIRLS DO NOT SMOKE"—PREXY

Chicago, Nov. 16—Vassar girls do not smoke and knees are bare only when they play hockey, according to Dr. H. N. McCracken, president of the college, here attending the annual convention of Vassar alumnae.

"All talk about Vassar girls defying the anti-cigarette rule is nonsense" he said.

"Its their own rule—they made it."

America's Favorite Songs

THERE'S A LONG, LONG TRAIL

Of American songs made famous during the recent war, none shows signs of greater longevity than the "Long, Long Trail." Yet, like many a popular favorite of war time, it was not a war song at all.

The song originally was written for a Junior show at Yale University. At the last rehearsal of the show it was suggested to the authors that they needed a sentimental song to balance the ragtime music, and sitting down at the Piano, Zo Elliott produced the melody while Stoddard King wrote the lyrics.

TURNED DOWN.

Many music publishers in this country turned it down and it was finally taken to England where it was accepted by an English publisher. Although used a little in the English music halls, it did not really become popular until the men in the trenches took it up and put a deeper interpretation on the words. From the trenches its popularity spread until it finally became one of the best loved songs of the war period.

Following the war the two authors of the song assumed pursuits in keeping with their respective contributions to the song. Stoddard King became a reporter on a Seattle paper and Zo Elliott continued his composition and continued vocal lessons.

What is your favorite American song? Is it in this list? Send your choice to Kenneth S. Clark, Community Service, 315 Fourth avenue, New York, as part of a nation-wide vote.

Nights are growing very lonely,
Days are very long;
I'm a-growing weary only
List'ning for your song.
Old remembrances are thronging
Thro' my memory,
Till it seems the world is full of dreams
Just to call you back to me.

There's a long, long trail a winding
Into the land of my dreams,
Where the nightingales are singing
And a white moon beams:
There's a long, long night of waiting
Until my dreams all come true;
Till the day when I'll be going down
That long, long trail with you.

All night long I hear you calling,
Calling sweet and low;
Seem to hear your footsteps falling,
Ev'ry where I go.
Tho' the round between us stretches
Many a weary mile,
I forget that you're not with me yet,
When I think I see you smile

Just Folks

A DAY IS NOT SO LONG

From dawn to dusk is not so long
When it is spent in mirth and song;
Night swiftly falls to close the day
That's free from care and rich with play

The hands upon the clock turn fast,
The happiest hours are soonest past,
But oh, the leaden feet of care
Make long the time of our despair,
And grief and hurt and shame and wrong
Make every troubled day seem long.

Let me be true for just today,
Whatever waits along my way!
Surely from daybreak until night
I can be faithful to the right;
Can face one day of blustering rain
And bitter cold, and not complain.
What though I fare to work or play,
Unchanged's the measure of the day,
The bright hours do not faster go
Than those which bear the freight of woe.

'Tis faltering faith and heavy doubt
Which seem to stretch the mornings out,
If pleasure's day so swiftly flies,
For one day can I not be wise?
Can I not face one day of care
And brave the heartache of despair?
Have I not courage stern enough
One day to bear with life's rebuff?
Though long it seems to troubled hearts,
Even the day of grief departs.

Not long the day when laughter rings,
Not long the day which pleasure brings,
Nor longer is the day of woe—
'Tis but man's thinking makes it so.
Then let me, though I smile or grieve,
Keep faith with all from dawn till eve;
Let me each day, through every test,
With courage hold to what is best.
Tomorrow waits—blue skies or gray,
I have but to be true today.

Little Benny's Notebook

Pop was setting and thinking and I was on the floor doing my lessins and wishing I wasent, and all of a suddin pop sed, The sun of a gun.

Wat, pop, who? I sed, and pop sed, The bird that was standing next to me in the trolley car coming home this affirnoon. Theres a 5 dollar bill gone from my vest pockit and Id be willing to bet another 5 that that birds got it. The sun of a gun, pop sed.

Well G, pop, Cuzzin Artie and me jest got up a new detecktive agency and we're the detecktives and maybe we can find him for you and get the 5 dollers back, I sed, and pop sed, Maybe you can, stranger things than that have happened, in fairy tales.

Meening he doubted it, and I sed, Well I got my clue book heer, pop, will you anser some questions if I ask you some?

Shoot, pop sed. Meening go ahed and ask them. Wich I did, saying, About how old a man was he?

Im glad you asked that, he must of bin at leest 104 yeers old because he couldent stand without the aid of a cane, 2 crutches and a umbrella and I remember wondering at the time why somebody didnt get up and give him a seat, pop sed.

Discribe his genrel appearances, I sed.

Well thats easy enuff, because I never saw sutch a genrel appearing man in my life and I hope I never do agen, pop sed. In the ferst place he had red wiskers on one side of his face and black on the other, wile, oddly enuff, his mustash was a sickly pale yello color, and in the 2nd place he had a very peculiar chin ixactly the shape of the figure 13, and to cap the climax ony had one eyebrow and that was over his ear insted of his eye, pop sed.

Aw G, pop, I aint going to rite that down, youre jest making it up, I sed, and pop sed, Well enyway you cant deny that if you ever meet a man of that discription you'll certeny recognise him.

Wich I proberly would. LEE PAPE.

HOUSE OF COMMONS KILLS LABOR MOVE

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—The House of Commons Thursday night, after a debate in which the prime minister and Mr. Lloyd George took part and much heckling and derisive remarks were indulged in, rejected the labor motion of censure introduced by J. Ramsay MacDonald, by a vote of 295 to 190, amid ministerial cheers.

FOUR DEAD, RESULT OF FIGHT OVER GIRL

Kellihor, Minn., Nov. 16—Argument over a 15 year old girl by two rival suitors resulted in a quadruple murder near this village Thursday. Leonard Portano, considered in this vicinity as a "bad man", the alleged murderer, has taken to the woods after the murders. The girl is Myrtle Sanders, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, victims of the desperado.

BORAH SAYS TAX CUT IS NECESSARY

Washington, Nov. 16 — The first broadside attack on the taxation policy of Republican organization leaders in Congress was made Thursday night by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who declared that reduction of the present tax burden was not only an economic but a moral necessity.

If the present plan of delaying such a reduction is carried out, he said in a formal statement, it may prove a "hazardous enterprise," for Congress to face its constituency next year at the polls. For the tax payer, he asserted, is showing a strong inclination "to turn upon his torture."

Despite these signs of the times, however, the senator added it is certain that unless those favoring reduction go to work on an affirmative program, the next session will see taxes and public expenditures increased instead of curtailed.

PERPETUAL LIGHT FOR POILU'S TOMB

Paris, Nov. 16—(AP)—The tomb of France's unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe will become a more impressive symbol of sacrifice if the proposal to keep a flame under the arch burning day and night is adopted. The unknown soldier's tomb continues as a national shrine and is visited by thousands Sundays and holidays.

In this connection it has been pointed out that time has effaced many memories connected with the war. It is a rare thing to see a war ribbon in a man's button hole, while during the first years after the war every winner of a war cross displayed its ribbon.

Charity Never Faileth

I CORINTHIANS, 13TH CHAPTER.

1. Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

5. Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil.

6. Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth.

7. Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8. Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

ASK STATE TO ACT ON CRAIG BLOCKADE

Can Not Use Road North of There.

The state division of highways is being bombarded with requests to do something with the road mixing plant at Craig at the top of the Salt creek hill on the Bloomington road. Three or four or five miles of perfectly good concrete road can not be used this winter because of the condition at Craig. The condition is something for which the state is not to blame but it is nevertheless besought to do something about it. It is a difficult condition for which to find a temporary remedy but the state can find one. As it is the Dewitt county section which is nearly finished is just as useful to the traveling public as if not a rod of it had been paved.

FARM AND INDUSTRY TO MEET JAN 14-15

Chicago, Nov. 16 — Mid-western farmers and manufacturers will discuss mutual problems and adopt remedies at a two-day convention to be held here next January 14 and 15. It was announced here Thursday.

HUNDREDS ENTER IN BOK PEACE CONTEST

People of 22 Nations Seek $100,000.

New York, Nov 16 — Nationals of twenty two countries—men and women of all degrees—believe they know how to hold the world in peace, it was disclosed Thursday night when the American Peace Award announced the close of the contest for the $100,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok. Those who submitted plans before the contest closed at midnight ran into many hundreds.

Members of the policy committee estimated that at least one fourth of the entrants were women, as that number was indicated in the requests for contest conditions issued shortly after the prize was announced. The contestants, however, and their cities and counties will not be known until an award has been made.

DISCIPLINE YALE MEN "DISTILLERS"

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 16—Thirty Yale student have been disciplined for having fermented grape juice in their rooms. The number of classes they may cut has been reduced. The juice was peddled on the campus with directions as to making it potent.

PANA MAN CHOSEN FOR REHABILITATION

Dr. Danford Member of Legion Committee.

Pana, Nov. 16—Dr. R. C. Danford of this city has been named a member of the Legion Rehabilitation committee of the Illinois Department of the American Legion, having been appointed by Col. John J. Bullington of Belleville, Ill., commissioner of the Illinois Division, in his official announcement of appointments for the ensuing year.

Dr. Danford's appointment was unsolicited and came as a surprise to him when he was informed by local newspaper people.

Dr. Danford has been a physician and surgeon in this city and community for the last thirty years. He was one of the first physicians in this city to enlist when war was declared. He was overseas and in charge of Evacuation Hospital No. 1 at Toul, France, and following the signing of the armistice was district surgeon at Nezy, France, being with the Second Army, A. E. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Halden O. Eve, who were married at Washington, Okla., last Saturday, have returned to Pana from that city and have taken up their temporary residence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rayhill, Oak and Sixth streets.

Mr. Eve is associated in the jewelry business with his father, E. Eve, in this city.

GAME POSTPONED

The Assumption-Pana Township High school football game, which was to have been played here Saturday, has been postponed until Thanksgiving Day, when it will be played in this city at the athletic field. The Pana team will go to Benld, Ill., Saturday to meet the High team of that city.

HEALTH PROGRAM.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Washington school will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. A health program will be the feature of the program with a community sing under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Zellman, director of music in the public schools.

The following is the program:
Talk—Dr. Walter Burgess

HEARS FROM NIECE

D. J. McGlavic, well known resident of this city, on Tuesday received a letter from his niece, Mrs. John Jerhard, who resides north of Springfield, Ill., after a period of fifty years during which time neither heard from or of the other although they have resided within sixty miles of each other for that many years.

MISS SANDERS MARRIED

In a letter to friends in this city Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sanders of Beaver, Okla., formerly of Pana, announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marie Stella Sanders, to [illegible] of [illegible], Okla.

For some time it has been rumored that Miss Sanders was engaged with [illegible] was [illegible] at the spring [illegible]. This report is [illegible].

The Auxiliary of the Elks Lodge of this city met at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at a one o'clock luncheon served at the Elks' club rooms. There were some sixty members present.

Following a delicious two-course luncheon the business meeting was held. Following the regular business reports were made on the Children's Christmas party which the ladies will give Dec. 24 for the poor and needy children of this city.

Following the meeting the afternoon was turned over to the social committee and the remainder spent in bridge and five hundred.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynam Fox have moved into their new home on South Maple street. The dwelling has just been completed and is one of the most modern and complete in the city.

GRAND MASTER COMING

Worshipful Master O. H. Metcalf of the Masonic lodge of this city announced Thursday that he had secured Grand Master Arthur E. Wood of the Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois for the speaker at the Home-Coming and Past Masters' night banquet to be held next Thursday evening.

Mrs. Eunis Pfau and Miss Helen Parkinson were hostesses to a few friends at a seven o'clock dinner at the New Francis Hotel Wednesday evening.

The table decorations were cut flowers. Following the dinner the evening was spent in cards.

Perry Reviews Important Saturday Grid Games

Yale-Princeton, Michigan-Wisconsin Battles and California-Washington Contest Lead In Various Sections.

By LAWRENCE PERRY.
(Copyright 1923)

New York, Nov. 16—In the renewal of their time honored gridiron classic on Saturday, Yale, according to all canons of form should win over Princeton. The defense of the Elis is not too impressive—as has been demonstrated more than once this season—but included upon the eleven are a crowd of sprightly backs who have the long-gain bug in their systems. Princeton, on the other hand, has shown a very able defense since and including the Navy game but on attack the Tigers have not been impressive.

They have a line drive which is better than anything a Princeton team has shown in many years but against a real big team defense it carries no scoring conviction. Coupled with [illegible]

[illegible] Michigan should prevail [illegible] Wisconsin even granting that [illegible] quarterback [illegible] unable to play. But he not too [illegible] the Ann Arbor team will [illegible] the Badgers. They are a lusty [illegible] and that game with Illinois [illegible] them the flooding they need [illegible] chances are that Michigan [illegible] after a minute or so of [illegible] that she has walked into a real [illegible] game.

MAY BE CLOSE

[illegible] seems to have been [illegible] that Centre [illegible] should win [illegible] herself sitting in at a [illegible] tea party.

[illegible] is divided as to the probable outcome of the game between California and Washington at Berkeley. Washington has progressed [illegible] through the season thus [illegible] is looked for the Bears. Many [illegible] think California will have a [illegible] even if she is not [illegible]

Ohio State has been improving [illegible] Her play against Purdue [illegible] impressive. Chicago is the favorite for this game [illegible] it would be just like the Buckeyes to slip one over on Stagg and his men.

COLUMBIA WORRIED

[illegible] should approach her [illegible] struggle against New York University in a powerful mood. The University heights team is formidable [illegible] since the two elevens rate in [illegible] the same class the Haughton [illegible] should have a real test.

[illegible] conference elevens come together when Iowa and Minnesota meet. The Hawkeyes have lost to the two leading Big Ten teams—Michigan and Illinois—by small scores and are, in every way a potent combination. Minnesota has not yet been defeated but has not met elevens of the calibre of those that downed the Iowans. If the Gophers can get by this contest it will be a real achievement for Bill Spaulding and his band. Penn State looks to have an edge on Pennsylvania. Syracuse will probably defeat Colgate, the game being a tough one, however. Stanford and Idaho should have a real tussle, Stanford favored to win.

WANT NO FAVOR SHOWN CLUBS

Priority Suggestion to Aid Weak Teams Frowned Upon.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

New York, Nov. 15—Any proposal that the weaker clubs as they are known in the major leagues, shall be favored by priority of choice in the selection of players meets with scant favor on the part of those who originally formed the rules of baseball government.

It is held by some eastern clubs that such an alignment of teams against other teams in the same league closes the field for a fair and equitable distribution of playing talent. It discriminates against managerial judgment they argue putting a premium on poor management and selection of players by giving the unsuccessful manager the advantage over the manager who not only knows that he needs but has earned enough money for his club to be able to afford it.

FIGURE STRENGTH

It is also a matter of curiosity to those who have listened to the ideas originated in Chicago as to just who should be the judge of whether a team is weak or strong. A team may become weak over night by injuries to players. Would it continue to be called strong on the theory that the players some day would recover, although its immediate condition might cost it its chance of a championship.

Still another point is made. Suppose the so-called weak club did get priority of selection. What would prevent it from turning around and selling a good and needed player to another club? Would it still be adjudged a weak team or would it be classified as a team which had deliberately weakened itself and thus be branded before its patrons as a club that was not over anxious to win a championship?

SHOW NO FAVOR

It was held in the days of baseball's earliest origin that the only fair way to regard the player situation was on the basis of a fair field and no favor so that no critic could say that any kind of artificial law restrained a club owner from making good if he had the disposition and the cash to do. In other words, if baseball were a sport it should be handled so that the tyro, if he entered the national game, would have an open market and as good a right to get players as the man who had been fashioning players all his life.

In the same manner, the man who could win championships by virtue of his superior knowledge of players was not to be restrained from exercising his ability and his intelligence. There are times when a team in the thick of a championship fight needs to move quickly. If it is unable to do so, the league of which it is a member has placed an arbitrary check upon it.

Even now the leagues decline to permit their clubs to transfer players after a certain date to prevent championships being "bought" but it works both ways for it prevents a second division team from moving out of the hole in which it has pegged itself.

LOU TODD GUILTY JURY DECLARES

Charged with Assault on Mrs. L. W. Falconer.

Lou Todd, alias Louis Chapman, was found guilty of assault with intent to kill Mrs. L. W. Falconer by a jury in the circuit court Thursday night. The case went to the jury at [illegible] o'clock and by 8 o'clock the jury had reached its verdict.

MADE HARD FIGHT

A feature of the case was the fight made by Attorney Tom Armstrong in behalf of Todd. Todd had no money with which to hire an attorney and the court appointed Mr Armstrong to defend him. Mr. Armstrong received nothing for his services, but no paid lawyer could have conducted a better defense in such a case.

It was one of the dirtiest cases that was ever tried in the Macon county circuit court. Much of the testimony was revolting in the extreme. It was not the kind of a case that the average lawyer would want to defend. For the prosecution there was not only State's Attorney Evans but Attorney James T Whitley whom Mr and Mrs. Falconer had hired to assist in the prosecution.

MANY ATTEND

The case attracted more attention than the average murder trial. The court room was crowded all day Thursday and dozens of spectators stood up around the wall, unable to find seats. It seemed that half the population of South Wheatland township was present.

Occasionally during the trial there had been a demonstration and Judge Baldwin told the audience just before the arguments began that if there was any sort of a demonstration the offenders would be ejected from the court room, and if it was impossible to identify the offenders, then the entire court room would be cleared. This had the effect of keeping the audience quiet throughout the arguments.

POLICE DOGS GUARD LEAGUE'S RECORDS

Geneva, Nov. 16—(AP)—When Americans pass the main portal of the League of Nations building, which overlooks Lake Leman, they often stoop to caress two enormous beautiful dogs which recline there docile and stretching their huge bulk out on the carpet in lazy satisfaction, blinkingly acknowledging the passing hand of the admiring visitor.

Thus it is in day but at night these harmless appearing canines become the terrifying guardians of the league temple with all its countless treasure of document and record. One is a great German dog, lithe and powerful, the other a huge St Bernard and they go the rounds with the night guardians running down this corridor and that poking their noses in a room here and a room there seeking the possible ill-doer.

That was [illegible] more than had entered during the same period of last season.

Blackburn at Principia.
Valparaiso at St. Viator.
Macomb at Parsons.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Before 4 o'clock this evening the 1923 champions of the I I A C will have been crowned. For the first time in the history of the conference Knox and Lombard the two Galesburg rivals are meeting this afternoon in the Lombard stadium.

For the past three seasons Paul Schissler's Olive eleven has carried off the title but today they are being contested by John Van Liew's "Old Siwash" machine.

Last year Lombard defeated St Viator 30 to 6 in the title game at Galesburg, but unless all dope goes astray they will have a much harder fight before another championship is won.

ALWAYS GREAT BATTLE

Last year Lombard was doped an easy winner over the Knox team but it was late in the fourth period that the Schissler eleven put over their one touchdown to gain a 7 to 6 verdict. Knox is rated a better team than in 1922 while Lombard is also regarded as a trifle stronger than last year.

The best bit of work turned out by Lombard this season was the holding of Notre Dame to a 14 to 0 score and the 17 to 0 triumph over Illinois Wesleyan.

[illegible]

tern college in a game which should be won by Glenn Smith's team. Northwestern was handed a surprise package by Mt Morris last week and is hardly expected to come back with a Monmouth victory.

Bill Muir's Dekalb team has yet to break into the win column, the best bit of work accomplished this season being a tie with State Normal and a touchdown on Lombard. Bill has had his share of tough luck and had to take suits away from several of his players, including the captain of the team, for insubordination.

Carthage should find Shurtleff easy while Blackburn meets Principia at St Louis.

DECATUR ATTRACTION.

Roltie Williams will send his Millikin team out on J M U Field for the last appearance at home. State Normal is to be the foe and while Millikin is a favorite to win the Teachers do not expect to have 107 points run up on them as was the occasion the last time they were here.

It will be the first appearance of Clifford Horton the new State Normal director who hails from out west.

The Millikin football team will draw down the curtain on its "At Home" football season tomorrow afternoon when the blue and white varsity tangles with State Normal.

But one more game remains on the program and it is to be played Thanksgiving Day at Peoria with the powerful Bradley College machine.

State Normal has not appeared in Decatur for the last few seasons or since that 107 to 0 disaster and the teachers are anxious to make a good showing, if not put over a victory on the locals.

PLAY LAST GAME

It is also the final game for three members of the Millikin eleven, Tom Hartman, Fred Seyfer and Johnny Rogers. Hartman hails from Macon Missouri while Seyfer and Rogers are Decatur boys.

Hartman has been one of the most consistent men on the team the last few years while Seyfer has played a fine article of ball at tackle this year despite the fact he has been outweighed in every contest. Johnny Rogers while not seeing as much service as the other two seniors as stuck by the old game through his college career.

TAKE LIGHT WORK.

Coach Williams put the men through the final scrimmage of the week yesterday and today will hold a short session which will be used to run through the plays to be used.

Three of the men who would take part in the contest if in shape or eligible Fleming Howe and Schulenberg will be missing. Nielson, the big boy who has been coming along in such good shape will be started at a guard. Welcome, McAnulty and Burgess will likely see some service. [illegible] Myers and Rogers are the backfield men expected to be sent into the fray by Coach Williams.

Urbana, Ill, Nov. 16—The Mississippi A. and M. football squad which will play the first intersectional game in the Illinois stadium and also close the local season, emerged from its sleeper this morning took a trip around Champaign and Urbana, worked out for an hour and then declared itself ready to face the Illini Saturday.

The Bulldogs are all pepped up over the fact that they are the first southern team to invade the stadium and they are set for a grim struggle against heavy odds. They expect to take advantage of Illinois desire to save its strength for the Ohio game next week.

EXCHANGE HOSPITALITY

Director Huff and Carl Lundgren baseball coach, have both led baseball teams to Starkville, Miss, on Illinois' southern trips, where the Illini have been hospitably received. Illinois was anxious to return the compliment and the sightseeing trip, a theater party and other entertainment was provided for such time as Coach Abell deemed it wise for his men to spare.

With more than 7,000 school children guests of the athletic association, Saturday's crowd will be swelled to 15,000 or more. George Huff has already had a tender feeling toward the boys who looked through knot holes at athletic events, and he seized the first opportunity to give the boys and girls of the county a glimpse of a big football game.

LINEUP UNDECIDED

The Illinois lineup is undecided. The game may start with a substitute backfield but at the first sign of trouble the regulars will be inserted. Bob Zuppke looks wistfully toward the Ohio-Chicago game on Stagg field and it is not improbable that he will reverse his decision to stay home and instead will hurry north to lamp the Buckeyes in action. "Zupp" wants to win at Columbus next week and he figures that Dr. Wilce will uncork the whole works against the Maroons.

If the little coach does go to Stagg field he will leave the veteran coach, Jus Lindgren, in charge. Ernest Bearg and Burt Ingwersen will make the detailed notes on the Buckeye strategies at Chicago.

THIS ERNIE IS ONE HARD BOY

Goozeman, Pacific Coast Featherweight, Likes Ring Game.

BY FAIR PLAY.

(Copyright, 1923)

New York, Nov. 16—At last there appears to be a real, roaring, tearing, ever battling featherweight in sight. He is Ernie Goozeman, of the Pacific coast, who has been opening the eyes of the middlewest fans of late. His real test the other night against Billie Levine in East Chicago is touted as a revelation by men who have no financial interest in the boy. They say he likes to fight and the fans know it from bell to bell.

Westerners say that the nearest approach to this fighting fool was Ad Wolgast, the Cadillac wildcat. Efforts are now in the making to match him against Joe Burman and if he gets by this encounter with flying colors he will set sail for New York, where it is predicted he will be as great a sensation as was Stan Ketchell.

LIPPE BENEFIT

Maxy Hoff of Philadelphia is named as the biggest contributor to the benefit fund for poor Al Lippe who has gone to Arizona suffering from two diseases, either one of them unusually deadly. Hoff came up with two thousand dollars. More than five thousand dollars already have been collected and Billy Gibson, Leo Flynn, Jimmy Rothwell and others who have been raising the money say six thousand will be enough. Jeff Smith was Lippe's leading boxer.

Billy Gibson should make much of Pal Moore, the "uncrowned champion." Gibson says he is going to keep Pal busy all through the winter which will please the fans because no walloper goes better with the customers than Moore.

From all appearance Harry Greb is going to be weaker than ever when he makes the weight limit of the class of which he is champion. The Pittsburgh windmill is getting to be a big guy.

WOLVERINES IN CRIPPLED SHAPE

Michigan Has Three Regulars Out of Lineup, Reports Say.

Chicago, Nov. 16—Michigan, crippled by injuries, today was on the battleground ready for Wisconsin at Madison Saturday. The Wolverine team is to work out this afternoon.

The Michigan eleven is to be without Uteritz regular quarterback, Vandervoort tackle and Steele, right guard, advices state.

With a line that appeared stronger than that of their opponents the Badgers may spring a surprise.

MINNESOTA AND IOWA.

Coach Spaulding of Minnesota is making further shifts so that he may have reserves available for holes that may appear during the game with Iowa. Reports from Iowa tell of a smooth working team. This eleven will work out again today before entertaining for Minneapolis. All regulars are in shape for the first time this year.

Chicago showed its ability against Ohio State plays again yesterday. The Maroon outfit is still handicapped somewhat by injuries.

The Mississippi Aggies are coming to Urbana Saturday with a strong eleven Northwestern and Purdue have put in a hard week in preparations for their contest. Neither team has won a Big Ten game this season.

HARRY GREB WINS WIGGINS BATTLE

Grand Rapids, Nov. 16—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh defeated Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis in ten rounds, newspaper men said.

Knute Rockne— The Gridiron Magician

Football Elevens Are of Two Types Rockne Prefers the Offensive Teams "Get Your Man" Is Rockne Axiom.

"Football machines are primarily of two types, defensive and offensive," says Coach Rockne. "I lean to the offensive teams who have a scoring punch, although I do not neglect the defense. Rather I work on the theory that attack is the strongest defense."

Getting the jump on the opposition, opines Rockne, is the big advantage in every football battle. He figures that this split-second edge is obtained by having agile linemen who can think and execute as quickly.

The system of the Notre Dame forwards is to always try to hit the other man first and thereby keep him on the defensive. That is why Rockne's linemen are often much lighter than generally selected by other coaches. He feels that agility in hitting first, far outweighs the advantage of poundage, which is often wasted by sluggish movement.

By hitting first and keeping the opposition on the defensive, the forwards make it possible for fast moving backs to find and penetrate holes that are open but momentarily. Hitting fast and low, the Notre Dame forwards have been so taught and trained that they are able to meet their heaviest opponents more than half way and consequently by the momentum gained by starting first they are at least temporarily able to open the required holes.

"It isn't the man with the ball who is responsible for most of the gains, it is the men who are assisting him," says Rockne. "The player carrying the ball must be protected by interference that is properly timed."

"Get your man," is a Rockne axiom. To Rockne there is no more heinous offense in the list of football sins than missing the man you are supposed to get in order to make possible the execution of a certain play. Notre Dame backs excel in interfering for the man with the ball. That explains the many long runs made by various members of the Irish backfield.

Rockne is strong for surprise plays. Notre Dame always has a bag full of them. He wants the football world to know he has them, for then they act as a threat that makes possible straight football, which is equally surprising to a team that is constantly looking for trick stuff. Princeton was treated to such a brand, after the Army a week previous, had been mystified by the variety of Notre Dame's offense.

Speed, surprise and elusiveness comprise the triple threat of Notre Dame's attack.

ZEV, IN MEMORIAM READY FOR RACE

Contenders Meet At Louisville Saturday.

Louisville Nov. 16—Racing fans arose early today to go to Churchill Downs to get a glimpse of Zev and In Memoriam contenders in a match race scheduled for Saturday in which the Rancocas stables crack colt will attempt to reverse the decision of the Latonia champion in which he was defeated by Earl Whidemeyer's colt. Zev arrived late yesterday from the east and was reported to have stood the trip well. A mile gallop was the workout scheduled today.

Trainer Robert Hilmore is expected to ask In Memoriam to step a brisk half mile today.

AT NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 16—The Notre Dame varsity scrimmaged for the second time this week Thursday afternoon in preparation for the Butler game Saturday, which will decide the state championship. DePauw won the state college championship by defeating DePauw last week. Coach Rockne is not taking the game lightly. He is drilling his team in defensive tactics against the Butler shift, which closely resembles that of Georgia Tech as exemplified here. None of the Notre Dame players were seriously injured in the Nebraska game and the entire first string lineup will be ready for Butler. Because of early darkness, the game will begin at 2 o'clock instead of 2:30, the starting time of previous home games.

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 16—Dummy scrimmage filled a lively forty minutes on Iowa field Thursday night. With an entire squad free from injuries, Coach Jones is taking no chances on bruises slowing his attack against Minnesota Saturday. The line was but little changed from the one that faced Michigan two weeks ago. Hancock was shifted to right end and Romagnoli from there over to left tackle, a move as the forward wall was unchanged in the back field the only innovation was the use of Parkin for short periods at quarter. Fry is still the choice to start Saturday, with Parkin and Scamfecony in reserve. The squad will leave for Minneapolis today with the band and a thousand supporters.

MIDWEST BOWLING MEET IS OPENED

WAR ON SPEEDERS AT TAYLORVILLE

Bright Lighted Car Must Await Daylight.

Taylorville, Nov. 16—A warning to all automobilists of this city was sounded Thursday by Chief of Police R. J. Fore, in a statement that from now on a rigid campaign against the "speeder" and drivers of cars with glaring headlights would be carried on by the local police force.

Any autoist caught driving with bright headlights will be forced to park the car at the nearest possible place off the street and to let it stay there until daylight. He will also be arraigned on a charge of violation of the motor laws.

The speed limit in the city is ten miles per hour in the business district and fifteen miles per hour in the less congested part of the city.

Friday is the last day for filing cases in the Christian county circuit court for the November term and a large number of cases which had been held up until the last minute were rushed into the office of the circuit clerk.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW Gas Stove Cabinet

Puts the "Light" in Light Housekeeping

A Gas Stove and Kitchen Cabinet Combined—

White Semi-Steel

Easy to Clean

Made entirely of metal—not a particle of wood used in the construction. It is thus absolute vermin proof. The body is white enameled both inside and outside, making it very easy to clean. The whole porcelain top is heat proof and acid proof. A porcelain enamel drip pan is provided beneath the gas burners. This pan, and the burners, are easily removed for cleaning. Each burner operates on a sliding rod which makes the operation smooth and noiseless—no warping or binding.

Three In One

A Gas Range

A Kitchen Cabinet

A Kitchen Table

Three articles combined in one—a gas range, a kitchen cabinet and a kitchen table. This means a big saving in space which is so essential in small kitchens and kitchenettes. It is a wonderful step saver. An entire meal can be prepared and cooked without taking a single step.

Buying Cameo Records is like bringing the popular orchestras and vocal artists of the day right into your own home. Hear these new hits today—play them at home tonight.

A TREAT FOR NOVEMBER!

400 { Last Night On The Back Porch (Fox Trot) Exceptionally well played by the Varsity Eight, with plenty of the true college spirit.
The Band Played Home Sweet Home (Waltz) The song hit of Earl Carroll's Vanities. Beautifully rendered by Bob Haring's Orchestra. A melody that will linger with you.

399 { Covered Wagon Days (Fox Trot) Inspired by the famous motion picture, "The Covered Wagon." The arrangement by Arthur Lange is stirring and captivating.
Rocky Mountain Rose (Fox Trot) We know this number will appeal to all who love to dance to perfect rhythm.

404 { I Love You (Fox Trot) This song hit from "Little Jessie James" is the rage of New York. Well arranged and played with lots of snap and sparkle.
Nijigo Novgo (Fox Trot) The Russian Glide—Queenie Smith's big success from "Helen of Troy." You will want to play it again and again.

402 { I'm A Syncopatin' Mamma (Fox Trot) In this number Phil Baker's Orchestra has created a novelty that is distinctively different.
Love, My Heart is Calling You (Fox Trot) Recorded by Bob Haring's Velvetone Orchestra in a style both individual and pleasing.

409 { Just A Girl That Men Forget (Tenor Solo) A song with a moral—a sweet, simple melody that should be in every home.
Wait Till You're Blue (Tenor Solo) A delightful number, sung in a way that will appeal to everybody—young and old.

423 { That Old Gang of Mine (Fox Trot)
My Sunflower Maid (Fox Trot) Played by Arthur Lange's Orchestra. Special release by popular demand.

398 { Indiana Moon (Waltz) Bob Haring's Velvetone Orchestra has played this beautiful melody in a way that will touch the heartstrings.
Little Boy Blue (Fox Trot) A distinct novelty and so different from all others that you should surely include it in your record library.

405 { It's Not The First Time That You Left Me (Tenor Solo) Sung by William Robyn in his inimitable style. This is a number you will enjoy hearing often.
Not Here—Not There (Contralto Solo) The fascinating rhythm of this number will keep you whistling long after the record has been played.

406 { I Must Go To Moscow (Vocal Comic) A real comedy song that will give you a great laugh. Sung by Jimmy Hussey in the "Ziegfeld Follies."
The Gold Digger (Vocal Comic) Another belly comedy song. Winnie Lightner is singing it with tremendous success in "George White's Scandals."

407 { Land Of Cotton Blues (Vocal Blues)
Some Early Morning (Vocal Blues) Two excellent numbers sung by Lucille Hegamin as only Lucille Hegamin can sing them.

403 { Saint Louis Gal (Fox Trot)
Sam Jones Blues (Fox Trot) Played by the Dixie Daisies. There's plenty of pep and go to this record—and the right rhythm.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

HEAD DRESS

Headdresses are very fashionable now and are sure to be in evidence at the Christmas parties. For bobbed heads these are frequently made of silver flowers mounted on a silver ribbon. For the more dignified types are the more elaborate specimens such as the one sketched above, made of silver cloth fitted over a foundation three or four inches wide, outlined with pearls or rhinestones or a combination of both.

FIRST EXHIBIT OF ARTS AND CRAFTS TO BE ON NOV. 30

The first annual exhibit of the Arts and Crafts Guild, to be given in conjunction with the Art Guild of the Millikin university, will be Friday, Nov. 30, in the Art Institute, it was decided at the meeting of the guild Thursday evening in the Art Institute.

In her talk before the members of the Arts and Crafts Guild Thursday evening, Miss Emma Bates Robbins of the James Millikin university gave a graphic and interesting sketch of the origin and growth of religious architecture from the earliest Egyptian post and lintel type down through the Greek, Roman, Byzantium and Norman periods, until its final evolution and culmination in the medieval Gothic Cathedral. The form and construction of these magnificent buildings were illuminatingly described and the talk was illustrated by sketches and drawings, and numerous cards and descriptive booklets of cathedrals, which she had visited during her recent tour of Europe.

An interesting fact mentioned during the talk was that nearly all of these ancient buildings which took centuries in building are so rapidly disintegrating that constant repairs are in progress. Miss Robbins also told of how the age of the building may be told by the carvings on the building, which illustrated the ideals of the age in which the people who built the cathedrals lived.

LECTURER NEXT ON STALEY COURSE

Edward Tomlinson Comes Nov. 27—Staley Orchestra to Play.

Edward Tomlinson, who is a lecturer on Political and Historical Questions, will be the speaker Nov. 27, for the next number of the Lyceum course of the Staley Fellowship club. The lecture will be given in the club house.

The Staley ten piece jazz orchestra will make its first appearance at this time. Mettlin Craig is the leader, and the employes of the plant are looking to the appearance of the band with a great deal of enthusiasm.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants.

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

Myrna Sharlow Sings Saturday

Appears in "Mefistofele;" Real Debut Sunday.

(Special to The Review)

Chicago, Ill, Nov. 16—It has been decided that Myrna Sharlow will sing the Elena role in "Mefistofele" with the Chicago Civic Opera company Saturday afternoon. Her real debut as a dramatic soprano will take place Sunday afternoon when she sings Brunnhilda in "Siegfried."

The two roles are very unlike, that of Helen of Troy being more lyric while the Brunnhilda is one of the biggest dramatic soprano roles ever written.

"Mefistofele" was presented Wednesday night, with the great Russian actor-singer in the title part. To the average opera-goer it was even more satisfying as a production, and musically, than "Boris Godunoff," which was the opening opera of the season. The work affords opportunity for splendid scenic effects and great chorus work, as well as several interesting principal parts. The staging and lighting were miracles of perfection, and the production as a whole was as sumptuous and interesting as the first night's opera.

IN FOURTH ACT.

Myrna Sharlow, singing Helen of Troy, appears only in the fourth act, but she dominates that scene. The whole conception of this act is fantastic, representing "The Night of the Classical Sabbath," on the banks of a river in Greece. Faust has been brought there by Mefistofele, and there he meets the famous Helen of Troy, surrounded by her maidens. He is enraptured by her charm and beauty and makes ardent love to the Trojan queen. Some of the most beautiful music of Boito's opera comes in this act, which is really the climax of the opera. It affords Madame Sharlow a splendid opportunity for the display of her powers as a singer of lyric music, and is likely to prove one of her most effective roles of this nature.

Final stage and orchestra rehearsals of "Siegfried" will be held today and tonight, and everything is in readiness for another spectacular success on Sunday afternoon, with Madame Sharlow as the featured artist and Frederick Stock as guest conductor.

J. J. RICHESON AT WARREN SCHOOL

Talks On Education to the Mothers' Club.

Superintendent J. J. Richeson spoke to the Mothers' club of the Warren school in its meeting Thursday afternoon talking on the subject of "Education." The women wish to thank all persons especially those not connected with the Warren school for the generous donations and patronage at the jitney supper last week. Also they announce that the Warren school children who had jitney tickets left because the booths were all sold out, bring the tickets to the school Monday noon and they will receive home-made candy for them.

MARRIED IN CALIFORNIA

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR CLAYTON.

Miss Brittain Potts and Arthur F. Clayton were married in Santa Anna, Cal, Sunday, Nov 4. They will make their home in Long Beach. Mrs. Clayton lived in Decatur until a short time ago when she went to California. When in Decatur she lived with her sister, Mrs. C. V. Bissey, 2104 East Wood. She was employed at the E-Z Bag company and the Standard Oil.

Mr. Clayton is a naval officer and on Jan. 4, will sail for the West Indies with the same fleet with which H. S. Hall, now in Decatur, is connected.

PERSONALS

Mrs Verna Madden and two children, Mary Frances and Dicky, have returned to their home in Lima, Ohio, after a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Decatur.

Rev. and Mrs J. W. Boggess left Thursday morning for Lynnhaven, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

Rev. J. W. Boggess was called to Dalton City Tuesday to conduct funeral services of Mr. Pasley Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Herman Hill and her father, Henry Bauman, left over the Wabash Thursday morning for a trip to California.

O. B. Short, who was in business in Decatur five or six years ago, was in the city Wednesday and Thursday. He is now making his headquarters in St. Louis selling sales promotion service.

Mrs. Gibbie Ulery of Mt. Zion is spending several days with her brother, J. A. W. Bell, 151 North Church street.

PINES POPULAR FOR WIENER ROASTS

Cutting Hedges; New Walk to Be Laid.

Wiener roasts and church parties proved to be quite popular at the Pines Community Center during the month of October as the last month's record shows that a total of seven hundred and fort[illegible] people were on the grounds during the month. These events included wiener roasts given by Sunday school classes, several adult social clubs and the all day and afternoon quiltings and sewings held by the various church organizations.

The Loyal Ladies Bible Class of St Paul's Methodist church meets every Tuesday, the Ladies Aid Society of East Park Baptist church every Wednesday and St Paul's Lutheran Society every other Thursday.

CUT HEDGES

Workmen completed the job Thursday of cutting the hedges on the south and west side of the Pines grounds. This was necessary on the south side, as a portion of this ground will be used for the new sidewalk that will be put in along the William Street hard road.

N. W. U. ALUMNI ORGANIZE HERE

To Assist in Campaign for Endowment.

Decatur alumni of Northwestern university were organized into a local committee to assist in the drive for $5 000 000 of endowment fund for the school, by Dean Ralph Heilman of the Commerce School of Northwestern university Thursday night in a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A.

The different schools of the university will be represented in the Decatur campaign by former students of those schools. Dr C E Woodward and Dr O O Stanley will represent the Northwestern Medical School, Dr C L Cassell will represent the Dental School, Emmanuel Rosenburg will represent the School of Law, Glenn Sober the School of Commerce, O S Hubbard and E H Langdon the School of Liberal Arts and Mrs Eunice McKee will represent the alumnae.

DELLORA TO MOVE INTO SMALL HOME

St. Charles Heiress Tires of Big Estate.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Dellora Angell Norris, heiress to the $38,000,000 John W Gates estate, who married "Lee" Norris a childhood playmate, has found love in a small town apartment preferable to life on her Lake Forest estate.

It became known Thursday that the 15 acre estate in Lake Forest, left to her by her uncle, John W. Gates with its 33 room house filled with rugs, tapestries, antiques and a collection of valuable paintings, is offered for sale. Many articles of furniture already have been sold.

FULLNESS OF NEW FROCKS

The skirts of new dresses have a tendency to bunch their fullness in front or at the sides. The extra material usually is taken up in pleats as in the frocks sketched.

The side-pleated model has an interesting waistline treatment that gives the skirt front an almost apron like effect. The sleeves are good looking—split to the elbow on the underseam.

The second model has a long tunic—longer even than the skirt—which parts in front to show the pleated panel there. This dress too has interesting sleeves and a new development of the round neckline. Both models are good for fall and winter.

SELECT 12 IN M'DAVID CONTEST

Six Men and Six Women to Compete.

Finalists in the McDavid prize speaking contest were announced following the preliminary try-out Thursday afternoon in the rooms of the public speaking department. Twelve students, six men and six women were picked to enter the final contest on Friday Nov 23 at which time the public will be invited to hear the speeches of the twelve contestants. Miss Mary Foran, Miss Ruth Galloway, Miss Marie Horton, Miss Rachael Irwin, Miss Doris Lowe, Miss Bertha Rickey, Paul Curry, Paul C Evans, Virgil Gunlock, Alfred Nelson, Herman Pritchett and Otto Sutter were the twelve picked by the judges Thursday afternoon.

Assisting Prof Herbert A Carroll in the choice of the finalists were Miss Helen Lobenstein and Samuel Smith who acted as judges. A different group of judges will be requested to act at the finals of the McDavid contest a week from Friday.

$50 PRIZE

In the interim a special meeting of the final competitors for the prize of fifty dollars will be held Friday in room 307. All students who will participate in the contest will work upon their individual speeches meanwhile.

The Millidek board has started taking pictures for the annual. Students of the J M U have been requested to go to the photographers—Linquist and Marvold for their pictures this year. The same system as was used last year—having individual pictures of each student in school—will be used while besides the regular class picture to appear a separate picture of the student will be used for each activity that he has entered into at the university.

HOME MADE COUGH MIXTURE CONSIDERED BEST

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes, Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly.

Costs But A Trifle

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds and for nasal catarrh.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmint (double strength). To this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it and children like it.

Like a soothing healing poultice, our costly substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hang-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

And remember any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Parmint and get better.

$100 Costs $3.50 For Thirty Days

The above loan paid in four equal monthly installments costs $8.75. Interest is figured on unpaid principal balances for exact number of days between payments.

Loans $10 to $300 to any one living in or near Decatur. You can have all the time necessary for repayment and pay only the lawful interest for just the actual time you keep the money. No inquiries of your employer, friends or trades people. Loans made same day you apply. Call phone or write.

Community Chest Notes

15 Organizations.

"Stress should be made of the point made by a worker at the Thursday workers luncheon" said Chairman W H Wiley "of the fact that there are fifteen organizations in this chest including practically all the charitable, welfare and benevolent work of the city, so that if one gave 50 cents for each organization it would be only a total of $7.50 for a whole year of their activities—not very much for one person to give."

Eighty Per Cent Right

"Here is an answer to the criticism against some of the member organizations of the Community Chest" said James M Allen one of the most enthusiastic workers. "If it is objected that there is something wrong with one of the organizations I find that the objectors will always admit that even that organization may be 80 per cent right, so if an organization is good for 80 per cent of its claims why it is doing about as well as most of us expect to do and is therefore entitled to 100 per cent support."

Wabash Men Respond.

A whirlwind job is being done in Mr Hess department of the Wabash shops by J N Ganley" said John H McEvoy chairman of that district. "He told me this morning that the subscriptions of the shop were than $[illegible]00 and the total would be over $1 000. More enthusiasm is being developed there all the time."

Big Subscriptions Increased.

C H Leon chairman of the executive committee said at the Thursday meeting:

The big subscribers have many of them made the necessary 50 per cent increase.

"They are giving liberally. The $1, $5 and $10 subscribers are most of them subscribing about what they did before. If we get the necessary increase one must have the increase from the smaller ones or we must have a great many more smaller subscribers or we will fall short. I wonder if the smaller subscribers realize that as much depends on them as on the big subscribers."

Staleys Enthusiastic

Workers who have met Superintendent James Galloway of the Staley plant in charge of the campaign in the plant are of the impression that the whole plant is boiling over with enthusiasm for the Community Chest. It is expected that there will be 1 000 subscribers there.

Mr. Galloway gives the credit for the fine return that is being made to the foremen of the different departments and it is easy to see that they are full of enthusiasm and have gotten across to the departments the generous desire to give that is bringing them across practically 100 per cent. However the workers who know Mr Galloway and are acquainted with the loyal support he gives such public undertakings as the Community Chest know that he is easily first in enthusiasm and energy and that nothing like the high showing would be made if he was not heading up the work.

The employes of the Staley [illegible] are giving a day's pay.

Give One-half Week's Pay

"A reasonable subscription to the Community Chest fund is one-half of one-week's income," said C. Roy Eshelman administration officer of the Community Chest.

"Not many are making that much of a subscription. If everybody would the fund would be raised in a short time and there would be some to spare.

"For instance a person making $20 a week should give $10. A good many could easily afford to give that much because they spend a great deal more than $10 a year on movies, confectionery, automobiles or other things that are classed as luxuries. Ten dollars a week is out of an income of $1 040 a year and when it is considered that this is the support one gives for the boys in the Opportunity home, the girls in the Welfare home, the children in the Day nursery, medicines, braces and other such service for the crippled children that are made sound in the crippled children's clinic it does not look like more than most of us could afford to give. It is one cent out of every dollar income."

Give Prize to Chest.

The check for $50 which the Lyon Lumber company won as second prize for the airplane M-140 which was a part of the Armistice parade, was made payable to the Lyon Fellowship club. The club contributed this nice prize to the Community Chest fund. The individual subscriptions to the Community Chest fund amounted to $102.36 from employes which with the $50 makes a total from that source of $152.[illegible]

Few Changes Made In Kitchen Market Prices

Apples and Pears Only Fruit—Nuts Arriving—Honey in Demand.

Prices in the market have been stationary for the last week or two There are plenty of green things on the market. Green onions straggle in every week and are selling at five cents a bunch. There is a good supply of lettuce, both in the head and leaf, on the market. The head lettuce is somewhat cheaper, selling at ten and fifteen cents a head while the leaf lettuce is selling at twenty cents a pound. Cucumbers have come down a little and are selling at ten and fifteen cents a piece. There is some fine spinach on the market. It sells for eighteen cents a pound.

Plums have made their exit on the market and nothing new has taken their place unless the very fine, fancy eating pears, can be used. They are selling at five cents apiece.

PLENTY APPLES.

Apples are crowding out all the fruit on the market. The Champion apples are selling at $1.35 a basket and the Romans are selling at $1.75. They are also selling at four pounds for twenty-five cents. California grapes are holding their own and are much cheaper now. Some of them are selling at sixty cents a basket and others at fifteen cents a pound.

Nuts have started to come in for Thanksgiving but will not be plentiful until next week. English walnuts are selling from thirty-five to sixty cents a pound. Filberts are selling at thirty cents a pound and the black walnuts at four pounds for twenty-five cents.

Honey is proving to be somewhat in demand at present. It is selling at twenty-five cents a cone.

Sausage is very popular, especially the stuffed country sausage. It is selling at thirty cents a pound and the loose sausage selling at twenty-five cents a pound.

GOLDFISH NEED SHADE AND AIR

If you are keeping goldfish, learn these two important facts:

1—The fish must live in the shade.

—They require frequent changes of fresh water.

The reason for the first fact is that goldfish have no eyelids and therefore cannot keep light from blinding them. That is why you see them frisking about in the globe, if you set them in the sunlight. They're only trying, in their frenzied way, to find a shady spot.

Stones and small plants can be put into the bowl to afford shade, but the best method is to keep the whole globe in the shade.

Fresh aerated water is necessary for these fish, as for any others living in natural waters. Fish live on air in the water. Still water in the globe is free from air.

If you see the fish swimming about with gaping mouths, they are actually smothering for want of air

Change the water.

Household Suggestions

Carboned Ceiling

When the ceiling above a gas jet has become darkened apply a layer of starch and water with a piece of flannel. Let dry and then brush off lightly.

Instead of Milk

You can sometimes use water in mixing a cake when there is no milk available, and you will find the cake lighter and less likely to scorch.

Cheese With Soup

If you wish to increase the nutritive value of a soup serve grated cheese with it.

Suede Gloves

You can clean your light-colored suede gloves with a mixture of powdered alum and fuller's earth in equal parts.

Left-Over Coffee

It is poor economy to reheat coffee since the flavor lies in the volatile oil

which goes after the coffee is made. But left-over coffee can be utilized very nicely for mixing ginger bread or for gelatine desserts.

Awfully Nice.

Now is the time to fight constipation with Bran—Start to-day!

Don't give the diseases that follow in the track of constipation a chance to lodge in your system! Get after constipation with nature's greatest helper—BRAN, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—because it is ALL BRAN and because it will give you permanent relief from constipation! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Bran's action is wonderful. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies. It knocks out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution! Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls each day; as much each meal in chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings!

Kellogg's Bran should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and difficult to eat. Kellogg's is cooked and all ready to serve and really delicious. Eat it as a cereal sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two tablespoonfuls for each person.

Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family? Do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics?

Kellogg's Bran is particularly delightful made is raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package.

You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

EGGLESS RECIPES

If you would make a boiled cake frosting without eggs or butter try this recipe. The frosting is soft and creamy and has a delicious taste

BOILED ICING

One and one-half cups granulated sugar 2-3 cup milk, 2 teaspoons flour, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put sugar and milk in a smooth sauce pan. Let stand until sugar and milk are well blended. Cook until a soft ball is formed when a few drops are tried in a saucer of cold water. Do not stir after the sirup begins to boil. Put the flour in a bowl. Just before the sirup reaches the soft ball stage pour a little over the flour stirring to make a smooth paste. Add two tablespoons more of the sirup and stir until smooth. Return the sirup to the fire and finish cooking. Pour into flour and sirup mixture and let stand until creamy. Spread on warm cake.

Caramel sauce is always good on a pudding or as a "dip" for ice cream.

CARAMEL SAUCE

One and one-half cups granulated sugar, 1½ cups boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 dessertspoon cornstarch.

Melt sugar in an iron or aluminum frying pan. Put over a hot fire and stir constantly until melted. Let the sirup become a golden brown. Add boiling water and simmer until sirup is dissolved. Add butter and cook ten minutes. Dissolve cornstarch in a little cold milk and stir into boiling sirup. Let boil one minute and put over hot water to keep hot.

Steamed puddings are always light and moist and altogether rather better than the average baked pudding.

STEAMED PUDDING

Two tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons molasses, 4 tablespoons milk, ¼ cup white flour, 2-3 cup graham flour, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and nutmeg, ½ cup stoned dates. Melt butter. Add molasses and milk. Add graham flour and mix well. Mix and sift white flour, soda, salt and spices. Add to first mixture. Stir in dates. Turn into a buttered mold and steam one and one-half hours. Serve with lemon sauce.

LEMON SAUCE.

One and one-half cups boiling water, ¾ cup sugar, 2 dessertspoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, few grains salt.

Mix sugar and cornstarch. Slowly add water, stirring constantly. Boil until clear and thick, stirring to prevent sticking. Add butter, lemon juice and rind and cook two minutes longer. Remove from the fire and serve warm.

EGGLESS CAKE

Two cups flour, 1½ cups sugar, 4 tablespoons lard, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup seeded and chopped raisins.

Rub shortening into flour with tips of fingers. Stir in sugar. Dissolve soda in sour milk and stir into mixture. Beat well and add cinnamon, salt and raisins. Turn into a buttered and floured loaf cake pan and bake forty-five or fifty minutes in a moderate oven.

Armour's STAR BACON

When Bacon Heads the Meal

For breakfast nothing quite equals it. For adding flavor to other dishes, it is unsurpassed. For the meal that you feel too tired and hot to prepare or to eat, its ease of preparation and succulent goodness make it your faithful stand-by.

And, of all bacon, Armour's Star is the best. As tender and sweet and fine-grained as "The Ham What Am," its flavor is unexcelled. In quality it is the very finest of the millions of pounds we cure annually.

Don't limit its use to breakfast. Buy it the economical way—by the piece. There are innumerable ways to prepare it. Each one will save you time and trouble.

Packing House Secrets

Every dollar of the capital stock of Armour and Company represents actual property in the shape of land, buildings machinery and other equipment for doing business. The investment in the company is greater than the capital stock account shows. The magnitude of the work of moving meat from the centers of production in the West to the centers of consumption in the East requires a tremendous investment.

AUTOS IN ILLINOIS COST $960,000,000

Galena Ill., Nov. 16—People of Illinois have invested $960,000,000 in motor vehicles, Governor Len Small estimated at a good roads meeting here today.

"There are now licensed in this state 967,485 motor vehicles, the governor said. "If we estimate their cost at an average of $1,000, it would mean that the people of Illinois have invested $960,000,000 in motor vehicles which they are now running, or six times as much as the $160,000,000 bond issues combined.

LIFE THREE YEARS.

"The life of an automobile on the ordinary dirt road is estimated to be about three years. I think every one will admit that the automobile will last twice as long and run twice as many miles on smooth pavement as on the average unpaved roads.

"Therefore, if my estimates are correct, the annual saving to automobiles owners in Illinois would be one-sixth of the cost or $160,000,000 or as much each year as the two road bond issues combined.

"In addition there is a great saving in gasoline per mile in running over smooth pavement as compared with the quantity used on the average unpaved roads."

MRS. J. T. WILCOX, LONG ILL, DIES

Has Been in Hospital for Many Weeks.

MRS. JOHN T. WILCOX.

Mrs. Mary H. Wilcox, wife of John T. Wilcox, secretary-treasurer of the True Oil company, died shortly before noon, Friday, at the Decatur and Macon County hospital. She was forty-six years old in October. Mrs. Wilcox had been in failing health for a long time and had been in the hospital for many weeks. It has been known for some time that there was no chance for her recovery.

CAME HERE IN 1901.

Mrs. Wilcox was born on a farm near New Berlin, Ill., Oct. 25, 1877. She received her education at the New Berlin high school. Later her father sold his farm and the family moved to Tipton, Mo., and there she and John T. Wilcox were married Jan. 1, 1896. With her husband she came to Decatur April 15, 1901, Mr. Wilcox having purchased the interest of J. B. Bullard in the undertaking establishment of Bullard & Monson, which continued as Monson & Wilcox until Mr. Wilcox sold out to his partner, Mr. Monson, last January.

For over twenty-two years Mrs. Wilcox was a resident of Decatur and during that time she became widely known and had a host of friends. Her cheerful good nature and pleasing disposition won her friends everywhere. She was prominent in a number of organizations, but her chief interest was in her home and her family. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, Decatur Court of Honor No. 49, the White Shrine of Decatur, Decatur chapter No. 111, Order of the Eastern Star and of Progress Rebekah lodge, Decatur.

LEAVES TWO SONS.

Beside her husband, Mrs. Wilcox is survived by two sons, Ralph W. Wilcox of Decatur and Arthur B. Wilcox now a student at Champaign. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Kitty Wilcox of New Berlin, and three brothers, Dr. J. C. McMillan of New Berlin, William McMillan of Phoenix, Ariz., and Lee McMillan of Los Angeles, Cal.

The body was removed to the Monson undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. The time of the funeral has not yet been decided, but it is known that the body will be taken to New Berlin, for burial in the cemetery beside the bodies of other members of her family.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN EFFINGHAM

Effingham, Nov. 16—Fire damage to the extent of from $5,000 to $10,000 resulted Thursday from a fire in a garage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Petty, which was used as a storage warehouse for the surplus stock from the Petty music store. A clerk had built a fire in an oil stove in preparation to do some work there, then left it. A little later the place was in flames, and two automobiles, a number of pianos, six of them new and some other merchandise stored there, were burned.

OPAL ARTHUR GIVEN FOURTH REPRIEVE

Execution Platt Man Dated Dec. 28.

Springfield, Nov. 16—George Opal Arthur, convicted in the circuit court of Platt county on a charge of murdering Charley Martin near Monticello in December, 1921, and sentenced to hang Nov. 23, after three reprieves, will be given his fourth reprieve by Governor Small until Dec. 28.

Attorney Grover C. Hoff of Clinton, representing Arthur, appeared in the governor's office Friday with the application for the extension of the reprieve, in order that the record of the case in the circuit court might be completed so that the case might be taken to the supreme court. It will take three weeks or more to complete the record, Mr. Huff said.

PROSECUTOR CONCURS.

He brought with him the concurrence of Burl C. Edie, state's attorney of Platt county, and Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Mansfield, representing Attorney General Brundage, to the application for an extension of time of the reprieve. Mr. Mansfield assisted Mr. Edie in the prosecution of the case.

Governor Small is out of the city and will not return until Monday or Tuesday, when he probably will act formally in the matter.

MOKANNA CHOOSES KANSAS CITY, KAN.

Moline, Ill., Nov. 16.—Kansas City was selected as 1924 convention city of the Daughters of Mokanna, national auxiliary of the Grotto, a Masonic organization, at the closing session in Moline last night.

Mrs. Anna Wright of Kansas City, Kan., was elected Supreme Mighty Chosen One of the order. Mrs. Esther Hogan of Moline was named Supreme Lesbia.

PEORIA CONDUCTOR BURNED BY WIRE

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16—Rescued from a live trolley wire by passengers who heard his calls for help, Albert Novard, street car conductor, is at a hospital here badly burned. The trolley pole had leaped from the wire and Novard came into contact with a trolley wire which was down.

LOCAL FRATERNITIES IN CONFERENCE

Will Have Convention in New York City.

Psi Lambda Chi, one of the local fraternities of James Millikin university will be represented at the first annual meeting of local fraternities of the United States Nov. 30 in New York City. The meeting is to be a gathering of representatives from local fraternities all over the country, for the first time in the history of Greek letter organizations in colleges and universities. J. B. Austin, one of the foundera of Psi Lambda Chi will represent his fraternity at this meeting.

Kappa Delta Chi will also send a representative.

Invitations have been sent out to local frats at various colleges and universities over the United States by George Banta, Sr. Mr. Banta is one of the outstanding figures in the "Greek" world in colleges. He edits the well-known Banta's Exchange and is prominent in the movement for the advancement of fraternities over the country.

Mr. Banta is the chairman of the sub-committee of the extension committee for fraternities.

TWO DAY MEETING.

The meeting of the local fraternities is to be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City, and the sessions will start Nov. 30 and cover a period of two days—the time of Thanksgiving vacation. Some very important questions and matters will be brought up in regard to the policies of local fraternities. At the same time there will be an attempt to organize at least the nucleus of a new national fraternity.

This proposed organization will be an entirely new step in national fraternity organization, since previously national fraternities have had a very slow growth, starting from a single chapter and gradually adding new groups. This plan, however, is only a side detail of some of the important interests which will be taken up in the meeting.

At the same time as the local fraternity meeting, the fifteenth annual inter-fraternity conference of national fraternities will be held at the same hotel in New York City. Questions concerning both conferences will doubtless be brought up in the meetings of each to bring close cooperation between the two groups.

363,836 MEN IN ILLINOIS PLANTS

October Employment Figures Better Than 1921-22

Chicago, Nov. 16—The downward course of factory employment began in July and continued through September, halted in October, according to a review of the industrial situation in Illinois made by the Illinois department of labor.

The report shows virtually the same number of workers—363,836—were employed by 1188 manufacturers in October that were employed in September. This is 2.7 per cent lower than in June, but substantially above the status of the same month last year and further above October 1, 1921.

SPOTTY CONDITION.

Reports from 1527 firms employing 434,787 workers show an employment gain of one tenth of one per cent. The report says however, "a spotty condition is seen."

Of the 53 manufacturing industries 26 showed gains in October and 27 showed declines. Heating apparatus manufacturers gained 12 per cent. Building demands, planing mills, brick kilns and builders showed adverse changes. The metal industry showed a mixed trend. In wearing apparel industries the trend was sharply downward and in the canning industries the trend was sharply downward and in the canning industry with the season virtually over, the break almost reached 75 per cent. Christmas orders were making heavy demands on confectioners.

HOLD UP LEVEL.

An analysis by cities shows that only gains in Chicago, East St. Louis and Springfield prevent in the employment index of the state from reaching a lower level. Chicago showing 2,000 more workers in October than in September and the opening of two mines near Springfield brought that city up by 2.9 per cent. Elsewhere declines were general. Average earnings for men in October totalled $30.78 and for women $17.49.

The report says "unemployment of sizeable proportions is now with us."

KENNEY WOMAN HAS BRIDGE PARTY

Kenney, Nov. 15—Mrs. R. B. Pullen will entertain a number of friends at bridge Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Tomlinson of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Will Tomlinson of Springfield, Mr and Mrs. Ray H. Miller of Maroa and Mr. and Mrs O. W. Howard of Kenney spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Trowbridge. A radio concert out of Davenport, Iowa, was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wene and family of Wapella visited Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Derricks Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Woods is visiting relatives in Mackinaw.

Mrs. H. A. Morgan and family visited over Sunday in Maroa with Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin. Mr. Morgan also spent Sunday there.

MRS. MARQUISS DIES IN HOSPITAL

Monticello Woman Ill for a Year.

Monticello, Nov. 16 — Mrs. Louise Marquiss died at 8 o'clock Friday morning at the Decatur and Macon County hospital. She had been in failing health for a year, and critically ill for several weeks. A complication of diseases caused her death.

Mrs. Marquiss was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Moore, and was born in Bement in May, 1865. She taught the Platt school near Monticello for a year, and then accepted a stenographic position in Chicago, where she remained several years before her marriage to James E. Marquiss in 1887. She is survived by her husband and the following named children: Mrs Lucille McNutt of Decatur, Ralph Marquiss of New York City, Walter Marquiss of Quincy, Ill., Mrs. Gertrude Norris and Miss Emma Marquiss of Monticello. A brother O. D. Moore of Allerton, and three grandchilden also survive.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY BOARD KICKS ON BILL

But Allows It After Long Wrangle.

Taylorville, Nov. 15—Presentation of a bill for $333 for services as deputy sheriff was the signal for a vigorous stir-off in the county board of supervisors' meeting Wednesday afternoon. The bill was presented in behalf of Joe Betterton, who Sheriff Andrew Fleshner stated had earned the amount as a deputy. The supervisors strenuously objected to the account on the grounds that it was too much for thirty-eight days' work but after wrangling over the matter for the best portion of the afternoon, the bill was allowed.

FILES APPEAL.

An appeal to the supreme court has been taken by Amelio Bianchi, alias Joseph Paul, alias Amelio White, who recently was convicted in the circuit court of manslaughter in connection with the death by shooting of Mayor William Motley of Kincaid. By order of Mr. Justice William M. Farmer of Vandalia, a writ of supersedeas was issued, staying the execution of an indeterminate sentence to the penitentiary, with bond of $7,000.

MINISTER RESIGNS.

Rev. C. C. Colby, pastor of the Taylorville Baptist church, has resigned his pastorate here, to resume work with the Near East Relief, with which he was connected during the war period. A matter of salary, which is being considered at this time, is the only thing that prevents his immediate resumption of that work.

Josiah Leigh, of Edinburg, aged sixty years, died at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning in the St. Vincents hospital in this city. Death was caused by a complication of diseases. He had been bedridden for the last five weeks.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of Mrs. G. A. Wacker in Edinburg at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Douglas of the Baptist church of Edinburg, officiating. Burial will be made in the Edinburg cemetery.

Deceased was born in Fayette county, Dec. 15, 1852, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Leigh. He was married to Miss Mary Sears at Ramsey and to this union were born four children, two of whom with their mother have preceded the father in death. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. G. A. Wacker, of Edinburg; one son, Joseph W., of Chicago, one sister, Mrs. Lavina Halford, of Walla Walla, Wash., and three grandchildren.

KESSLER-PHELPS.

Miss Freda Kessler and William Phelps of Morrisonville were united in marriage at the parsonage of the First Methodist church in this city at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Rev. E. J. Campbell officiating. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kessler, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left for Springfield on a short honeymoon trip. They will return to Morrisonville where they will make their future home.

Miss Kessler is a graduate of the Morrisonville high school and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kessler, prominent farmers living seven miles north of that city.

Mr. Phelps also is a graduate of the Morrisonville high school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Phelps of Morrisonville. He is engaged in farming.

ASKS DIVORCE.

A bill for divorce from Chester Osborne, of Decatur was filed in the circuit court here Wednesday by Cecile Osborne. She charges the defendant with infidelity and asks that her maiden name of Jones be restored to her.

C. I. P. S. WANTS TUSCOLA FRANCHISE

Tuscola, Nov. 15—The Tuscola city council met in its regular session Tuesday evening. In addition to the regular routine and the allowance of bills for current expenses. The attorney for the Central Illinois Public Service company was present with a petition for a franchise for the company, in the city of Tuscola. There was some discussion of the matter but no definite action was taken. The city attorney was not present and the council decided to refer the question to him, before taking action.

The regular monthly meeting of the official board of the Tuscola Methodist church was held Tuesday evening in the basement rooms of the church. There was a very good attendance and quite a little business was transacted.

MOVING AWAY.

Mrs. Arsina Ferguson and two children left here Wednesday for Granite City, where she will visit for a time with her sister, Mrs. Ray Cooper. Mrs. Ferguson is shipping her household goods to Libertyville,

START BUILDING COON CREEK BRIDGE

Clinton, Nov. 15—The contracting firm of Love & Richards has started work on the erection of the Coon creek bridge on route 2 south of Clinton, the most important engineering project connected with the entrance of the hard road into Clinton from the south. The bridge will be of concrete, with a fifty foot girder spanning the creek, and much of this work will be completed before the severe winter weather sets in. The locality furnishes greater handicaps to construction work than at any point along the line aside from Salt Creek and after completion of the road through Violet Valley, as the place is known, the other hard road work should go forward with but little delay.

The Salt Creek bridge is very nearly completed, but one span of concrete work remaining to be done and the placing of two steel girders, but in the meantime concrete is being poured near the William Querfield farm south of the Hill school and before the close of spring it will be possible to use all of the line between Clinton and Decatur.

AUTHORS PUT MT. PULASKI ON MAP

Mt. Pulaski, Nov. 15—Of the new books recently published and gaining a wide circulation are a novel, "Two No Trumps," by Gertrude Myers of Chicago, and a book of poems by Mrs. Katie Seyfer of Arkansas City, Ark.

The author of "Two No Trumps" was reared in Mt. Pulaski, coming here when but a child, with her parents, Ferdinand Myers and wife, and resided here up to the time of her marriage to Dr. Jacob Meyers of Chicago. She is a graduate of the Mt. Pulaski high school and before her marriage acted as substitute teacher. Her mother, Mrs. Hanna Myers resides in Chicago, and two of her brothers, M. J. and L. F. Myers, are members of one of the oldest established business firms in this city. Another brother Julius Myers, is in business in Clinton, Ill., and two more are in business in Kewonee, Ill.

STEPSISTER BREAKS UP ONE HAPPY HOME

Induces Wife, 16, to Leave Husband, 65.

Shelbyville, Nov. 15—Judge F. R. Dove granted a divorce to Robert Louis Edwards, sixty-five, of Windsor from his youthful wife, Earnie Edwards, sixteen, on the grounds of desertion. The plaintiff stated that a step-sister of Mr. Edwards came from Kentucky and persuaded his wife to leave. The couple had lived together for one year. The plaintiff's sister stated that she did not blame the girl for leaving.

CRIMINAL CASES.

Judge Dove announced that the week beginning Dec. 10 will be taken up with criminal cases.

Virgil Sharp, who was indicted for wife abandonment, was brought into court Wednesday morning and entered a plea of not guilty. The case is to be heard later.

The court heard the evidence in the case of Ner Handke against Mary Ann Tilley, petition to construe the will of John Handke, deceased. The petition was granted.

GRAND JURY.

Shortly before noon on Wednesday the grand jury made its final report to the court. The foreman announced that eighteen true bills had been found and one "not true bill" returned. The jurors were commended for their promptness in getting the business disposed of, and was discharged for the term. Seven of the indictments are for wife and child abandonment, one for liquor violation. The names of defendants are temporarily withheld.

TRIAL DOCKET.

The first jury of the circuit court will report for duty Monday, Dec. 3. The following cases have been set for trial for the week beginning on that day.

Monday, Dec 3—Charles C. Cook vs. Delphine Cook, divorce; Howell Coal Company vs. William Baum Coal Company, assumpsit; Harry Riley vs Walter L. Ross, receiver, case; Sylvia Retherford vs. John Proctor, appeal; G. W. Sporleder vs. Commercial State Bank of Windsor, assumpsit.

Wednesday, Dec. 5—R. F. Curry vs W. S Cross, appeal; John F. Cox vs. Edward M. Sibbitt, case; Minnie M Ditzler vs. Walter R. Stone, trespass on case, First National Bank of Mowequa vs Olive Stanley, confession (two cases).

Thursday, Dec. 6—Laura L. Richards vs John A. Richards, divorce and injunction.

MOTIONS AND ORDERS.

The following motions and orders were taken in circuit court Tuesday.

A divorce was granted to Earl Price from Waughie Price on the ground of desertion.

National enameling and stamping company vs Jess Fry, assumpsit dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

Jennie E. Percival vs. David Stafford, foreclosure; default, referred to master.

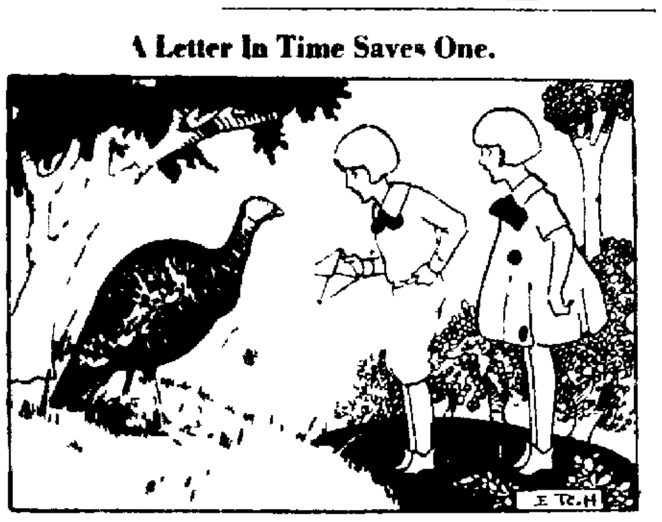
ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A Letter In Time Saves One.



'I forgot I can't read,' he gobbled

Mister Wild Turkey ... a tree top in Dixie Land ... was so fat he ... anyway he got ... sat looking ... low and feeling ... with himself.

"... he ... made out of ... climbing the hill ... I'll have to be careful ... humans ... aren't much bigger than I am ... needn't be afraid I guess. Besides they don't have any ... long iron sticks that explode ... and make me a dinner ..."

Nancy and Nick came quite near.

"Hello Mister Turkey, we've been looking for you," called Nick.

"That's what everybody says," answered Mister Turkey ... "... I don't stay long enough to find out what it is they want me for. Some of my friends have stayed and I never saw them again. Well young man what is it?"

"The Fairy Queen sent us a letter to give to you," said Nick. "We just found it in the Dixie Land Post office."

"You don't say so," exclaimed Mister Turkey. "Why I never got a letter in my life. Why I'm so excited I'm getting dizzy. I'll have to get down off this tree before I fall."

And down he flew.

But suddenly he looked sober. "I forgot I can't read," he gobbled. "That is I can't read unless it's written in Turkish. Is it?"

Nancy laughed. "No it's written in magic. I'll have to read it to you. Here's what it says:

"Dear Mister Wild Turkey

There is a time coming soon called Thanksgiving. It's a very nice time of the year for most people but not so good for turkeys. And it's just as bad for wild turkeys as it is for tame turkeys.

"I suppose you think it is queer that so many people in Dixie Land leave so much grain in their grain fields and even scatter pans of it here and there where you can get at it. But it isn't queer at all! They want you to get fat. The fatter the better. But if you don't eat for awhile you'll get him and you'll be far safer. If I were you I'd starve myself for a spell. And I would go and live on a mountain top until Thanksgiving is over.

"Your friend,

"The Fairy Queen"

"You'd better go," advised Nick.

"I've started already," said Mister Gobbler, flapping his wings.

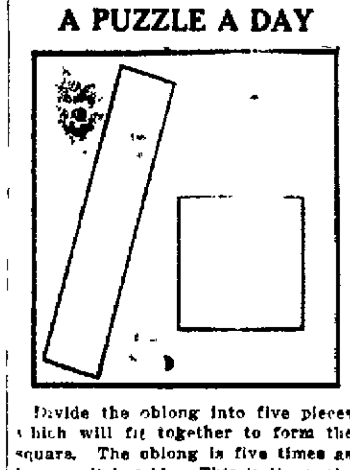
A PUZZLE A DAY



Divide the oblong into five pieces which will fit together to form the square. The oblong is five times as long as it is wide. This is the problem that confronted the carpenter who wished to make a square cover. It may be worked backward if you wish by cutting the square into five pieces that will form the oblong.

Yesterday's answer:

WIBISEGISOFYEOWPIS!

When double "L" is inserted six times in the line of letters, the following sentence will be formed:

WILL BILL SELL GILLS OF YELLOW PILLS!

Church Notes

Plan Bakery Sale.

Thirty members of St. Paul's Lutheran Sewing Society attended the afternoon meeting held at the Pines Thursday. The women worked on two quilts during the afternoon. Plans were made for the bakery sale and apron bazaar which will be held at the school building, corner of Jackson and Prairie street, Dec 8. Following the business meeting refreshments were served.

Shoe Manufacturers Move Plants to Combat Prices

Eleven Concerns Leave Million Feet of Factory Space Vacant In Lynn, Mass.

BY J. C. ROYLE
(Copyright, 1923)

New York, Nov. 15.—The old saying that "it is cheaper to move than pay rent" has been amended by manufacturers in several sections of the country.

They are following the slogan, "it is cheaper to move than submit to high labor costs and irksome working conditions." In the last few weeks eleven shoe manufacturers have left Lynn Mass., for other cities where, they declare less onerous labor conditions prevail. This has left more than one million feet of factory floor space vacant.

PROBE CONDITIONS.

The Lynn local unions of the Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America announced today that they had [illegible] to invite an investigation of conditions in the shoe industry in that center by the Massachusetts [illegible] of Arbitration. This action, which previously had been rejected last week by a margin of one vote, provides that state officials be asked to report on labor costs in Lynn as [illegible] with other shoe [illegible] on working conditions in general.

The general council of the Amalgamated Shoe Workers has recommended [illegible] acceptance of a reduction in wages of ten per cent by operatives [illegible] to prevent further migration of manufacturers. This has not yet been acted upon but manufacturers point out that from their viewpoint there are several difficulties facing them in Lynn more important than the wage reduction.

COMPETITION IMPOSSIBLE.

In accounting for the removal of [illegible] plants the employers assert that it is impossible for them to compete with western shoe manufacturers [illegible] because of high wages but [illegible] of unreasonable union regulations for the last decade they say production has been intermittently checked by strikes called on slight pretexts irrespective of existing [illegible] between operatives and employers. The only answer they have been able to make, they continue, is to move their plant lock stock and barrel to cities where a reasonable opportunity exists to do business on a basis that will show a legitimate profit.

The Lynn locals have been considering concessions to induce the manufacturers to remain. For some [illegible] most important point [illegible] has been agreement to [illegible] Saturday mornings. That time [illegible] is a holiday. Lack of strong leadership in the unions is asserted [illegible] investigators to be responsible for [illegible] of the troubles. This is [illegible] by the fact that after the [illegible] asking state to [illegible] the attorney [illegible] and voted to have nothing to do with the state [illegible]. Action is expected [illegible] the packers and cutters.

BOSTON AND WEST

A considerable number of shoe [illegible] who have left Lynn [illegible] and Haverhill have moved to [illegible] while others have shifted [illegible] to St. Louis and other [illegible] points. Conditions in Boston are regarded as better because [illegible] five and a half day week [illegible] there and because a large percentage of workmen speak English.

[illegible] manufacturer of women's cloaks [illegible] in Cleveland has announced [illegible] factory will be removed to [illegible] city before January 1 [illegible] requirements of the In[illegible] Garment Work[illegible] have made it almost im[illegible] to compete with New York [illegible] the ex[illegible] of the [illegible] but under the regulation [illegible] Cleveland manufacturers [illegible] workers receive be[illegible] and $50 a week while men [illegible] get from $60 to $70. The [illegible] expert workmen it is added [illegible] as high as $150 weekly while [illegible] find $75 a week in [illegible].

CONFIDENT PRICES WILL HOLD TRADE

[illegible], Nov. 16—Confidence among business men that prices for [illegible] products of the southern [illegible] will keep the latter in a most prosperous condition for months to come is reflected in pre-holiday merchandising throughout the southeast. Jobbers are anticipating a December demand which will overtax present warehouse stocks and many of them are now in northern markets for re[illegible]. Road salesmen are booking holiday orders in large quantity and earlier than usual.

[illegible] speaks [illegible] a severe slump [illegible] price of cotton [illegible] business [illegible]. Automobile dealers have ordered many closed cars for pre-Christmas delivery. Jewelers report many inquiries for diamonds and fur dealers anticipate a good retail trade in the costlier furs.

SMACKOVER SUFFERS $60,000 FIRE LOSS

Eldorado, Ark., Nov. 16—Nearly a [illegible] in the business district of Smackover, an oil town fifteen miles north of this city was destroyed by fire late Thursday. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

Several firemen and spectators were burned, one seriously, by live wires which fell upon a group of men fighting the blaze.

CUT SHOP FORCES TO WINTER NEEDS

St. Paul, Nov. 16—Northwest railroads are commencing to reduce shop forces to a normal fall and winter basis. The St. Paul road has laid off five hundred men in the Minneapolis shops and the Northern Pacific has made a five per cent reduction in its plants affecting 400 men. The locomotive shops of the Northern Pacific are working only five days a week and car shops of the Omaha railway have been closed at outside points in Wisconsin and Iowa.

Records of the carriers show that equipment and motive power are in better shape than at any time since relinquishment of federal control, despite the fact the roads have been handling a record volume of traffic.

COMMODITY NEWS.

FRUIT.

New Orleans, Nov. 16—The Louisiana orange crop is estimated at 125,000 boxes compared with 80,000 last year. Low prices have ruled so far, as this market is glutted with shipments from Florida. Prices were forced down from $3.50@4.00 a box to $1.75. At the same time Florida oranges sold at $1.00 a box. Much of the Florida fruit now has been absorbed and prices have recovered to $2.00@3.50 for sweets, $3.00@3.50 for navels, and $3.00 @4.00 for mandarins.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16—There is a heavy movement on dried and canned fruits from this port to the United Kingdom as is shown by the big cargo of the [illegible] steamer Dominion Miller which has just sailed with 650 tons of fruit.

SEED.

Detroit, Nov. 16—Seed experts in Michigan declared today that the cold weather last spring and excessive rains this fall are responsible for the higher prices for seed corn. Many predict higher prices than have obtained in the last five years. Seed corn is running high in moisture and farmers are installing drying apparatus. Seed oats, barley and soy beans show little change from last season. Clover seed is scarce and much of it is being shipped out of the state.

COTTON.

Atlanta, Nov 16—The Southern Cotton Traffic association has filed a vigorous protest with the car service division of the American Railway association against several railroads alleging failure of the carriers to have cotton compressed before shipment at a time when all car space available is needed.

WOOL.

San Angelo, Tex., Nov. 16—The Wool Growers Central Storage Warehouse Company has disposed of the last of its long [illegible] wool of the 1923 clip to a Boston firm. The prices are understood to have been under the peak level of the year. About 650,000 pounds of short fall wool will be offered for sale here November 20.

LUMBER.

St. Louis, Nov. 16—Twenty-six railroads report to the Merchants Exchange here that lumber moves into and out of St. Louis faster in October than in any month since May. Receipts were 21,831 cars compared with 18,178 in September and 11,659 in October 1922. Shipments were 14,096 cars against 12,815 in September and 10,634 in October last year. Total receipts for ten months were 190,198 and shipments 143,402 cars.

BUILDING MATERIALS.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16—Careful investigation covering all lines of building materials used in the northwest fails to reveal any tendency toward price recessions for the next year. Local dealers assert, however, that the present program, unless it gets and unexpected setback will keep prices at or above present levels through out 1924.

PACKING HOUSE PRODUCTS.

Kansas City, Nov. 16—Retail prices for meats showed a reduction of 2@4c a pound here this week, following similar wholesale price reductions. Pork loins are 2@5c a pound lower and bacon 3@4c [illegible] than a month ago.

DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16—"Dairy products have shown greater resistance to the downward sweep of prices to the farmers since the war than most of the major farm products" declared John D. Miller of Susquehanna, Pa., president of the National Milk Producers Federation today. This, he attributed to "orderly marketing, to legislation prohibiting the manufacture and sale of imitation and products, to protective tariff rates and to educational campaigns resulting in increased consumption, all of which are the results of co-operative marketing associations."

JOHN WIREY AND ORLA MALONEY WED

Tower Hill, Nov. 16—John Wirey and Miss Orla Maloney were married Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 14, at 3 o'clock. At the home of the bride's parents residing north of town. Rev. E. C. Smith, pastor of the Christian church at Windsor, Ill., performed the ceremony. Mr. Wirey is the son of Mr. and Miss Harve Wirey and one of our most popular young farmers. His bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Schack and a very popular young lady. They will reside in the south part of town, where Mr. Wirey has a home already furnished.

J. T. Killam is confined to his home by illness.

Rev. S. L. Weaver, pastor of the Methodist church has returned home from a visit in Pennsylvania.

Frank Simpson, S. W. Dutton, and Herbert Shanks spent Saturday afternoon in Herrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritts Simpson entertained relatives from Watson, Ill., several days this week.

GUEST DAY.

The Woman's club of Tower Hill held guest day at the home of Mrs. H. S. Corley Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 13, at 2:30 o'clock. An interesting program was rendered. A number of names as members were added for the ensuing year. During the social hour refreshments were served. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pauline Stumpf.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve dinner and supper Thanksgiving day, Nov. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Selly and daughter Audrea of Decatur and Miss Lela Connors spent several days last week in Tower Hill.

Miss Eunice Johnson of Decatur spent Sunday in Tower Hill as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Johnson.

Mrs. Jones of Radnor, Ohio, who is the guest of her daughter, Miss Gussie Metzke and Miss Nellie Newkirk had the misfortune to fall and break her leg at the home of Miss Newkirk last Thursday evening. Considering her advanced age, she is getting along very nicely.

Barrister: "And what time did the robbery take place?" asked the lawyer.

"I think—" began the witness.

"We don't care what you think," put in the attorney, "we want to know what you know."

"Then," rejoined the witness, "I [illegible] get down off the stand. [illegible] without thinking. [illegible]"

ASK $2,000,000 FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

Kansas City Nov. 16—Preliminary plans for a settlement of personal injury cases against the Kansas City Railways company, aggregating more than $2,000,000, have been presented to Federal Judge Kimbrough Stone. This move, it is felt has brought nearer the reorganization of the company, which now is in the hands of federal receivers. Judge Stone has ordered interested parties to confer further in an effort to settle all details of the plan.

SALARIES BOOM IN MOVIELAND, CLAIM

Producers Point to One Hardship in Industry.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 16—Salaries of leading, or featured motion picture players who are not under contract that have sky-rocketed in the past two years from a range between $100 and $1,200 a week to from $1,000 to $3,500 a week, present one of the stiffest problems in the current reorganization of the industry on a firm business basis, according to heads of production here.

U. S. HAS AUTO FOR 8 PERSONS

17,000,000 Vehicles in the World; America Has 14,000,000 of Them.

Washington, Nov. 16—By Jan. 1 the world will have in operation 17,000,000 automobiles, according to an estimate today by M. H. Hoepli, chief of the automotive division of the commerce department.

Of that total he says 14,000,000 will be running in the United States or about one to every eight persons, where as in the rest of the world the proportion will be about one to 112 persons.

U. S. HAS BIG FUND FOR USE ON ROADS

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Owners of motor vehicles pay to the federal government in taxes each year more than double the amount spent by the government on account of federal-aid highway and forest road construction, together with all administrative outlays, according to Secretary Wallace of Agriculture, who has charge of the administration of the highway funds.

Since 1917 the government has been collecting a tax on the selling price of motor vehicles, tires and automobile accessories, and also a tax on the use of passenger automobiles for hire. On June 30 this year $589,012,021 had been collected from these sources. Expenditures on highway by the government in that time totaled $264,752,216, or 45 per cent of the amount taken in.

CUT $431,000,000 FROM FREIGHT BILL

Washington, Nov. 16— Because of reductions in railroad rates inaugurated since 1921 the freight bill of the American public was $431,000,000 less during the first eight months of this year than it would have been if rate levels had remained unchanged, according to statistical compilations made today by the bureau of railway economics.

The saving resulted largely from reductions in the rates on agricultural products.

FOXES RAVAGE FLOCK OF GEESE

Reduce Shelby Woman's Crop From 47 to 10.

A Decatur family which for a number of years has been getting Thanksgiving geese from Mrs. Wade Hampton, who lives a few miles west of Shelbyville in Shelby county, took half of her crop this year for themselves and others who wanted to get in on this source of supply of fine, tender fowls.

Mrs. Hampton always has a large number of geese, but this year when the order went in "half the crop" numbered just five, for the flock of forty-seven which was being fitted for Thanksgiving market was reduced to ten, Mrs. Hampton writes, by the ravages of foxes. Neighbors also have lost a large number of geese by the same means, despite the fact that a determined effort has been made to exterminate the animals and save the fowls from their onslaughts.

ARTHUR REVIVAL DOING MUCH GOOD

Arthur, Nov. 16—The revival meeting at the Methodist Episcopal church is now in full swing, and the attendance has been growing. Many have come forward night after night, expressing a desire for deeper consecration and better Christian living.

The services begin every evening during the week at 7:30, and on Sunday at 7 o'clock. Greater provision will be made to accommodate the crowd that is expected Sunday evening. The Epworth League will begin at 5 o'clock with a social hour followed by the lesson period, which will be in charge of the League from the Lovington Methodist church.

The audience was much pleased with the meeting last Monday night, and a similar meeting will be held next Monday night. The boys and girls proved to be real "boosters" and are proud to think they "put one over" on the grown-ups.

Prof. News has shown his ability as a song leader, in the way he commands the audience in song. The chorus choir deserves much praise, and Miss Jessie Taylor of Flora, who is visiting Rev. and Mrs. Wilkinson, has pleased the audience with her solo work.

Special numbers in song together with the illuminated cross used in the pantomiming of sacred songs is given every night. A beautiful cross scene will be given this Sunday evening. A welcome is assured to all.

Movie Benefit.

Golden Crown Camp Number 129 R. N. of A., will have a movie benefit at the Bijou Theater, Nov. 19-22. The picture to be shown is "Ruggles of the Red Cap." The committee in charge will be stationed at the Kimball Music House, 149 East Main street, Saturday afternoon and evening, and all day Monday to receive money for ticket sale.

LOUISIANA'S CRUDE OIL INCREASES

Offerings Grow Heavy And Absorbtion Fails

Happenings Abroad Take Edge Off Buying Movement; Davison Chemical One Feature.

BY STUART P. WEST

(Copyright, 1923)

Wall Street, New York, Nov. 16.—The foreign news and the weakness in the exchanges and foreign government bonds were the main considerations in the stock market today.

For a time the price movement appeared indifferent. During the first hour or so an appearance of steadiness was preserved, and there were even a few advances among individual stocks. But as the day went on offerings became heavier and were not so well absorbed. It was evident that uncertainty of what was going to happen abroad had taken the edge off the buying movement and had made dealers [illegible]

WHEAT CLOSE IS NERVOUS

New York Stock Quotations Decline and Offset Price Rallies.

Chicago, Nov. 16—Influenced by weakness of sterling exchanges and by prospects in an increase in the domestic visible supply total, wheat prices underwent a fresh decline today. Bears made much too, of assertions that any advance in the wheat tariff would probably be so late that much Canadian wheat would be unloaded before hand in the United States.

The opening which ranged from ⅛ to ¾c lower with December $1.02⅜ and May $1.07½@¾ was followed by a material further drop.

Subsequently notice taken of predictions that the wheat tariff would be raised within a few weeks tended to bring about a rally but were offset somewhat by declines in New York stock market quotations.

Wheat closed nervous ⅛@¾ to 1⅛@1¼c net lower, December 1.01⅞ @⅞ and May $1.07¼@⅜.

Predictions of enlarged receipts had a bearish effect on corn. After opening unchanged to ½c lower December 73⅞@74⅛, the market showed a decided general setback.

Later the market recovered a little as a result of forecasts that no big movement was to be expected for two weeks. The close was unsettled ⅛@⅜c net lower December 73⅝.

Oats were relatively steady owing to demand from cash interests. Prices started unchanged to ½c off May 44c and then held near to the initial figures.

Provisions were firm.

GERMANS RIOT AS BREAD GOES UP

Berlin, Nov. 16—(AP)—A further increase today in the price of bread to 140,000,000,000 marks, the loaf, led to renewed food riots. Police were obliged to charge crowds threatening to storm the bakeries. In Charlottenburg many shops were plundered. There were numerous arrests.

STOCKS SHOW WEAK SPOTS

New York, Nov. 16—The market appeared sensitive to selling pressure during the morning although the recessions in the recognized leaders were held to a point or less. Weak spots cropped out, however, among the specialties and minor industrials, many of which dropped 1 to 4 points.

Steel shares were frely offered just before noon, U. S. Steel touching [illegible] Davison Chemical was run up 4⅛ points in brisk trading and gains of 4 and 5 points respectively were registered by United Cigar Stores and Kresge. Revival of a demand for Maxwell A. was accompanied by rumors of a higher dividend for that stock.

Call money opened at 4¾ per cent. The close was heavy.

JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

Chicago, Nov. 16—The Journal of Commerce says:

"Leading grain men are becoming reconciled to the idea that wheat prices are due for a downward revision. They bought wheat and held it, believing high prices were warranted and that the government might do something to aid in disposing of supplies. Even the United States government, the most potent power on earth, cannot circumvent the law of supply and demand. The government will do and will suggest a number of things that will be helpful to the farmer next year, but advices indicate there is no hope that anything will be done this year."

ASKS TOLERATION TOWARD RUSSIA

New York, Nov. 16—Renewing his plea for toleration toward the Russian Soviet government and financial aid for its church, the Greek orthodox Catholic Bishop Edgar Blake of Paris Thursday appeared before the Methodist Episcopal board of bishops and told what had influenced him to become "not a bolshevist nor a reactionary, but a little of each—thank God."

Authorized by the board to accompany a mission of investigation into Russia last May, Bishop Blake was recalled after he had attended the All-Russian ecclesiastical conference of the Soviet church, and there had pledged himself with Bishop John L. Nuelsen of the Zurich area to raise $51,000 for the education of the Greek Catholic clergy.

DESCRIBES RUSSIA.

He appeared before the board today to describe Russia as he had found it, and ended with a plea that the Methodist Episcopal church contribute as an organization to the fund he had pledged, with Bishop Nuelsen, as an individual.

At the close of his address the bishops, in semi-annual conference, discussed for several hours the problem Bishop Blake had raised. He, was asked to make a more detailed report of the situation tomorrow morning, after which a committee of five, headed by Bishop W. F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., would recommend the attitude to be adopted by the board.

SELLERS CALL PRICES STEADY

Cattle Run Not Heavy; Hogs Are Lower; Lambs Down.

BY L. C. GRUNDELAND.

(Copyright 1923.)

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Nov. 16—Cattle run was not heavy today, but the trade was slow. Big killers did not have anything forwarded from other trading points. In the hog house the supply was much la[rger] than expected. Added to the fresh run was a stale supply of nearly 19,500 and the market again dropped, closing with best butchers below $7. About 1100 hogs were received by big killers from other trading points, while 500 lambs were billed that way. Car report for the local yards was 809.

Receipts were 3,000 cattle, 45,000 hogs, 11,000 sheep and 1,000 calves.

CATTLE—No prime steers were offered today. The trade was slow during the session, but sellers were willing to call values about steady for what they could dispose of. Total supply of cattle for the week fell a little short of last week's run, but the trade was low at times, with plain steers closing off. Best light steers, and also prime yearlings closed 25@40c higher for the week, however. Top yearlings made $12.65.

HOGS—Hogs were again lower from the outset. Prime heavy butchers dropped below $7, when [illegible] lots stopped at $6.90. Bulk of good butchers sold at $6.40@6.80, and sellers had to take $6 and lower for fair quality packing hogs, with good lots around $6.10. The trade was fairly active at the lower values late in the day.

SHEEP—Lambs dropped [illegible] on a heavy supply. Nearly 12,000 were reported at Buffalo, and this took many expected shipping orders away from the local market. City butchers paid $12.10, while big killers took prime lambs at $12.75. Feeders and aged muttons held about steady.

BREAK IN FRENCH BONDS IS FEATURE

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES.

(Copyright, 1923)

New York, Nov. 16—A sharp break in French bonds was the outstanding feature in today's markets.

Until today these bonds had moved without regard to the continuous decline in franc exchange. Thursday, for instance, French 7½'s closed only five-eighths of a point below the opening price. In the case of the 8's, the difference of one-eighth of a point between opening and closing sales. Today, however, genuine weakness set in at the opening of the market until before noon the active issues were down two to three points. The decline was fairly uniform, involving both the direct obligations of the national government and the municipal and provincial issues. Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 6s went down with the other French securities.

The explanation for the selling was the increasingly disturbing news from abroad, involving, as it seemed, the possibility of a break between France and Great Britain, and the determination of France to take separate action against Germany.

With the French financial situation as difficult as it is, and with the prospect of receiving reparations in any adequate amount receding indefinitely, it was not surprising that investors should show some concern. On the other hand, no such alarm was in evidence as last January, and February, when the French first marched into the Ruhr and when the record lows for all the French dollar loans were made. At that time French 8's sold at 85½ and French 7½'s at 81c, while Department of the Seine 7's got down to 78c. Today's prices were far above these lows.

SAYS TIME SAVED MUST BE USED

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 16—Labor saving equipment in the home must not only be frequently and advantageously used but the time saved through its use must be well spent if the equipment is to be truly efficient according to Miss Lucille Allen, of the University of Illinois, who has laid down the following tests for labor saving equipment.

1—It must show a net gain in saving of time and energy.

2—It must be frequently used.

3—There must be a suitable place for its storage.

4—It must be a piece of equipment which the homemaker is both able and willing to use.

5—There must be wise use planned for the time and energy saved.

AURORA GOAT IS PUBLIC PROBLEM

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 16.—Aurora is perplexed as to what to do with a goat. The goat after devouring half a pound of nitroglycerine and nibbling on a stick of dynamite, left stored in a barn, has become a problem for the people of this city.

Some have advocated chloroforming the goat, but who will do it, has not been determined yet.

WOODHULL FARMER KILLED BY BULL

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 16.—Fred W. Howell, farmer living at Woodhull, near here, died this morning of injuries received late yesterday when he was gored by a bull in the barn yard at his home. Neighbors who were called to the rescue by his wife, found the bull rolling him over and over in the mud. By distracting the attention of the animal, they were able to drag Howell into the barn and close the door against the attack of the enraged animal.

GRAIN STEADY, HOGS WEAKER

In spite of a general weakness which developed in the grain market Friday, particularly in cash corn, local station buyers permitted their offers of Thursday to stand unchanged.

The hog market, however, was very weak, breaking badly under the continued heavy receipts, 45,000 being on the Chicago market Friday. Tops were dropped to $6.25 Friday by local packers and unless the market shows signs of recovery will probably go even lower.

Dairy and poultry produce are steady and unchanged. Local shippers show little interest in turkeys. They report that competition from South American turkeys is being felt, several shiploads having been received in the east laid down at the ports there at prices which are being asked for them in the middle west.

It's All Up With You— If You Have To Come Down!

William McFuddle walked into the big office building where Black & White were located, but as soon as he was going up in the elevator he remembered that he had forgotten the number of their floor.

So he came down again.

Then Mr. McFuddle consulted the building's directory of tenants. He found an alphabetical list of firms and individuals. He found this list gave both their office numbers and floor numbers. That made it easy for him.

Don't be like Mr. McFuddle. Read the A-B-C Classified Section of The Review to find out where to get what you want—before you go after it!

Then you won't have to come back and start all over again.

This section—like the directory of a large office building—is alphabetically indexed and numerically classified. Everything is as plain as black and white.

It's up to you to use it regularly and turn its offers into personal profits.

THE REVIEW'S CLASSIFIED ADS ALWAYS THE SAME IN SERVICE ALWAYS DIFFERENT—IN OPPORTUNITY.

Chest Fund $51,000; Need $44,000 More

Workers Bend Every Effort To Make Drive A Success; Some May Not Finish This Week.

With the official total standing at $51,000 at noon Friday, and the likelihood of it reaching the $60,000 mark before night the Community Chest fund is well over the half way mark.

Team captains continued to come into headquarters at the Motor club Friday morning carrying envelopes containing amounts ranging from $10 to $600.

The fourth day of the Community Chest drive found the workers with enthusiasm undiminished and determination [illegible] that red mark on the thermometer in Central park [illegible]

[illegible]

TEAM [illegible] MEET

[illegible]

[illegible] Lynwood [illegible] was talked at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening met Mrs Hattie Fisher one of the captains of District No. [illegible] on the street and asked for the privilege of making a subscription to the Community Chest. He gave her $1.00.

VOLUNTEER SUBSCRIPTIONS

A number of volunteer subscriptions have come in from out of town men, mainly traveling men who have dropped into headquarters and asked to be allowed to subscribe. Friday there were three of these subscriptions, Ralph A. Mahon, $5, Captain James P. Murphy $5, and George H. Dunmorer, Indianapolis $5.

A business man who had contributed $1.00 to the cause came in Friday morning and made it $5. He said when he saw the published list Thursday evening he decided he wasn't doing all he should do.

$3,161.41 FROM WOMEN.

Up to press time Friday afternoon the women of the city had raised a total of $3,161.41.

"Let us see just what these people have done who have contributed $1.00 toward the Community Chest," said a man at headquarters, Friday noon. "Here it is and these amount run five cents over the $1.00. Divided among the various organizations he has given the Y M C A eleven cents, the R R Y M C A seven cents, the Y W C A fourteen cents, the Boy Scouts eight cents; the school [illegible] two cents; the other [illegible] seven cents; Boys' Opportunity home eight cents; Red Cross four cents; Social Service, eight cents; Visiting Nurses, five cents; Salvation Army, seven cents; Welfare [illegible], eleven cents; Day Nursery, four cents, and the Relief on [illegible], eight cents. Perhaps thinking this over will make many a man voluntarily raise his subscription."

RAISE [illegible] CHEST IN DETROIT

Miss Helen McDougall, formerly the Girl Reserve secretary of the Decatur Y W C A but now at the head of the Campfire Girls in Detroit, Mich., has written to her friend, Mrs. F. W. Vincent, 422 West Eldorado street, something of the Community Chest drive in Detroit.

Miss McDougall says that the drive there was for $2,500,000 an increase over that of the previous year, and that it was extremely interesting to watch the checks come in. Dozens of them were for $10,000 and $20,000. One check from Senator Cousens was for $110,000 and one from Henry Ford and family was for $115,000. At the time the letter was written the drive had reached the $2,000,000 mark and those in charge expected the other $500,000 to be in within the next few days.

The Camp Fire Girls of which Miss McDougall is head is supported entirely by Detroit's Community Chest.

Warn Decatur of New Solicitors

Women Dressed Like Salvation Army.

People of Decatur have been warned by the Community Chest and the Association of Commerce that women dressed in a garb similar to that worn by the women members of the Salvation Army and soliciting in the city are not in any way connected with the Community Chest. They work in teams, and leave the impression they are connected with the Community Chest. Such is not the case however.

Two of them came into the headquarters of the Community Chest, Thursday evening apparently by accident. All present contributed but W. H. Wiley who saw they did not have the right button. They have credentials and badges but are not connected in any way with the charities of Decatur. In the Mueller Manufacturing company's plant, where the soliciting for the Chest is done in the homes the women stated that they are asking funds for a soldiers home but would not state where it was located, and left hurriedly when pressed for an answer.

NOT LOCAL PEOPLE.

"These women" said C. H. Leon, chairman of the Chest executive committee "have no connection whatever with the Community Chest, or with any Decatur charity. They have not submitted their cause to examination of the Association of Commerce, and it is impossible to say for whom they are working. We have been informed however, that they are going from one city to another, where community campaigns are conducted, and [illegible] raising money from people who think they are giving to the Chest."

Decatur

A Good Riddance.

The cast iron Christmas trees must go.

Even if the property owners who paid the bills for the "ornamental" cluster lights with which they cluttered up the business section of the city some years ago did then think that the lights added beauty, they are now ready to admit, with Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff, that they should be replaced by the single light standard.

In lighting as in many other things it has been found that beauty, dignity and symmetry can go along with efficiency and economy.

Like the Queen Anne architecture of a generation or so ago in Decatur when cottages and larger houses alike were "decorated" with useless spires, towers and plate glass windows with hideous transoms of "art" glass in colors which were as raw as Indian red, these cluster street lights are now seen to be a waste of material, a crudity to the eye and an inefficient, expensive system.

Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff will not only be saving current which means saving coal, and increasing the light on the streets but he will also add a distinct element of dignity and beauty to the city's lighting system when he makes the change from the present cluster fixtures to one large and more efficient light on each standard.

Mr. Ruthrauff says that the city will not only have more light but the cost of upkeep will be reduced four-fifths.

Under the spell of the oratory of those who believed that excessive street ornamentation with showy lights indicated "pep" in a town, Decatur property owners permitted themselves to be persuaded to put in these five light clusters.

They know now, as they see the more modern lighting in other cities, that it was a mistake.

Commissioner Ruthrauff may be certain that he is supported in his plan to change showiness to dignity and extravagance and waste to efficiency and economy.

WHAT DID YOU SEE?

K. C. saw an old, dilapidated looking wagon going down North Main street with the driver holding up a ladies' fine silk umbrella over his head.

J. C. saw a girl climb from the back seat of a car to the front while the car was traveling at a fair rate of speed down East Prairie street.

A. S. saw a man, after using a pen at the post office, start to stick it in his vest pocket.

H. L. K. saw a South Edward street sign on the boulevard in the 500 block West Macon, five blocks west of where it should be.

Mrs. F. K. W. saw a boy catch a stray rabbit, with his dog, Thursday in the 600 block North Church.

ENGINEERS ON SEWERAGE HERE

W. D. Hatfield May Be Superintendent.

S. A. GREELEY IN CITY

Plant to Be Completed By Dec. 15.

Samuel A. Greeley, of Pearse, Greeley & Hansen, consulting engineers on the sewage disposal and water impounding projects, was in Decatur Friday for meetings with the sanitary district trustees and with the directors of the Decatur Water Supply Co.

W. D. Hatfield, now of Highland Park, Mich., the town in which are located the Ford factories and which is really a part of Detroit, met Mr. Greeley at Decatur. Mr. Hatfield came to Decatur on the invitation of the sanitary district trustees to consider the position of superintendent of the sewage disposal plant.

IS CHEMIST.

He is a chemist, a University of Illinois man, and formerly with the Illinois state water department under Dr. Bartow. At present he has charge of the water department of Highland Park.

As he said Friday he oversees all of the water that goes into the making of Ford automobiles and he gave the number of tenths of a cent per car that it costs for water to make a Ford car, so closely have the accountants of that company figured down the actual cost of making a flivver.

INSPECT SEWAGE PLANT.

Mr. Hatfield's home is in Jacksonville, Ill., where his father and mother still live.

With W. C. Field, of the sanitary board, and Mr. Greeley, Mr. Hatfield inspected the sewage disposal plant Friday morning.

Because of the high water in the river and the unusual number of rains, both of which have interferred with the work, the time for the completion of the plant has been extended fifteen days.

READ. IN DECEMBER.

"It may require even more than that," said Mr. Field. "But the plant should be in operation by the middle of December. Cope & Fisher, the contractors, favored as they were in 1922 with good weather, have had an unusual number of rainy days to interrupt work in 1923 with the result that the work is somewhat behind schedule."

Mr. Greeley said that some of those who inspected the plant a week ago, engineers from Madison, Wis., told him, following the Illinois-Wisconsin game at Champaign, that the sewage disposal plant here was the best built plant of its kind that they had seen.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES SEWERAGE PROBLEM

To Make Careful Study Before Adopting Policy.

While no formal action was taken by the members of the city council at their informal meeting held Thursday afternoon the situation in regard to Deactur's sewers was discussed from various angles.

The members of the council recognize that the job which faces them in sewer construction and re-construction is a big one and there is a disposition to study it very carefully before adopting a policy.

NEW STORE KEEPER AT WABASH SHOPS

R. R. Jackson Succeeds G. W. Busch.

J. R. SEARS ELECTED

Named President Local Wabash Trainmen.

G. W. Busch, storekeeper for the Decatur division of the Wabash, is to be transferred to take charge of the store department for the company at Toledo, O. The official announcement from St. Louis came to Decatur offices of the Wabash Friday morning stating that R. R. Jackson had been named division storekeeper at Decatur, to succeed Mr. Busch, transferred.

Mr. Jackson was to have taken charge Friday but had not arrived at his new office Friday noon. He was expected later in the day. He comes from the B. and O. at Cincinnati, O., having been one of the two district storekeepers for that system.

IS HARD POSITION.

While it was known on the inner circle for some time that a change was contemplated, the announcement came as quite a surprise to the rank and file. The position as storekeeper is said to be one of the hardest and most nerve-wrecking jobs on a railroad. The Decatur store department is the most important on the whole Wabash system. It is by far the largest of the four store departments on the road and material from Decatur is shipped to all points on the system.

Mr. Busch has been in the Wabash store department about seven years and came here to take charge from Moberly, six years ago. In that time he has proven an exceedingly efficient and hard-working man for the place and not so long ago, he was forced to take an extended rest from the job. He now goes to a place where the task is less arduous.

Sears Elected.

J. R. Sears was elected president of the local lodge of Wabash trainmen at the annual election Thursday night, defeating Ike Thompson, 83 to 61. This was the only office in which there was any contest and practicaly all the old officers were reelected.

Move Much Meat.

The movement of packing house and produce merchants' products over the Wabash Thursday reached a figure of 107 cars, an unusually good figure. This included sixty-one cars of meat, sixteen cars of poultry and twelve of cheese. With the approach of Thanksgiving the movement of dressed poultry from the southwest has started and twelve of the sixteen cars of poultry was dressed stock. The fruit and vegetable movement is dropping off gradually and only eighteen cars of this stuff was handled in the day.

C. I. and W. Derailed.

The C. I. and W. westbound passenger train out of Decatur at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon was partially derailed at the switch at Boody where its own tracks leave the Wabash passing track. The engine and a couple of cars were derailed and about ninety feet of track torn up but no one was hurt nor was there much damage to equipment. The Wabash wrecker was used to rerail the engine and cars. It was due to a bad switch point.

Railroad Notes.

Miss Grace Lamb of the Wabash clerical forces has been assigned to the position of stenographer and billing machine clerk in the bill room at the shops.

Engineer Lucas of the Wabash north end freight service has returned to work after being off sick and Engineer O. C. Wasson of the south end freight service has returned to work after being off some time for jury service.

Joe King, Wabash assistant yardmaster at Woodford street, has returned to work after being off about a week.

Conductor Finkhouse of the Wabash freight service out of Decatur is marked off.

A suit brought by the five children of Joseph D. McNamara, traffic manager of the Wabash railroad, who was killed in an automobile collision in St. Louis in June, 1918, was settled Thursday. An agreement was reached by the defendant to pay the children $5000. They had sued for $10,000.

AMOS SADOWSKI BITTEN BY DOG

Dog to Be Kept in Pound for Ten Days.

Amos Sadowski, pressman for The Review Printing and Stationery company, was bitten on the left leg by a dog near the Decatur Coal company shaft Thursday and two small marks are left where the dog's teeth took hold. While the injury is not of a serious nature at present, still the matter was reported to the police and it was expected to round up the dog and keep it in pound for ten days in order to watch for any hydrophobia developments.

The dog evidently belonged to a teamster and was following the teamster's wagon. As Sadowski approached on his bicycle, the dog came at him, first on one side, and then at the other. It nabbed the rider by the leg and then got away before Sadowski could hit it with a hatchet which he happened to be carrying. Seeing the affair, the teamster laughed at Sadowski and drove on.

ROUTE 2 TRAFFIC STREETS NAMED

Use Main, North, Church, Union, Decatur.

TO ST. LOUIS BRIDGE

Water, Cerro Gordo and Franklin Later.

F. C. Feutz, of the state highway department, was in Decatur Friday and while here he and M. C. Nelson, president of the Decatur Motor club, laid out the plan for carrying through traffic on route 2 through Decatur so as to avoid the most congested districts and at the same time give the travelers the best pavements available during this winter.

The route finally decided upon will be in from the North Water street route on Water street as far south as East Division, west on Division to North Main, south on North Main to West North, west on North to North Church, south on Church to West Wood, west on Wood to South Union, south on Union to West Decatur, west on Decatur to Oakland avenue thence south to the St. Louis bridge.

USE FRANKLIN LATER.

When the hard road south from the county bridge is built this through route will come south on Water to Cerro Gordo, east on Cerro Gordo to North Franklin and then a straight shoot on Franklin south to the new road across the river.

That 800 foot gap in the hard road between Maroa and Clinton at Craig also probably will be finished yet this fall, according to a letter which Mr. Nelson had from Frank Sheets superintendent of highways for Illinois, Friday in reply to one from Mr. Nelson suggesting that this gap should be closed this fall if possible.

CLOSE CRAIG GAP.

Mr. Sheets, and Mr. Feutz supported him in that while he was here Friday, wrote that Mr. Kuhns, the contractor on the road building between Maroa and Clinton, was working steadily and expected to close the Craig gap as well as get to Clinton before the end of the building season.

The gap at Craig threatened to cause a winter long bad detour on this road and the news that the contractor will probably be able to complete the road through to Clinton was good news to the local good roads boosters.

In the letter from Mr. Sheets the writer also told Mr. Nelson that, following his suggestion that the jobs on the construction of the hard road south from Decatur to Vandalia be let to contractors of ability, capital and ample equipment the department now planned to divide the work into two big jobs—one of twenty-eight miles and one of thirty-two miles, and ask for bids on those two long stretches instead of dividing the work up into smaller contracts as heretofore.

PAST MASTERS AT MACON NO. 8

Degrees To Be Confered By Former Masters Tonight.

STEREOPTICON LECTURE

A stereopticon lecture will be presented in the Congregational church Sunday evening at 7.30, the subject being "Congregational Women and their World Wide Work."

BURGLAR TOOLS TAKEN IN RAID

Police Get Guns, Saws and Skeleton Keys.

Three big revolvers, a lot of cartridges, hack saws, skeleton keys files and other articles generally supposed to comprise a burglar's kit, were taken by the police Thursday night after making a raid on a room at 1074 East Eldorado street, where a fight among the roomers was reported to have been in progress.

There was plenty of evidence of a fight, for in one room there was a lot of blood on the floor. Also there was some liquor in glasses, indicating that the men had been drinking. Frank Malone, M. S. Reavis and Joe Miller were arrested on a charge of congregating to drink. It was thought that charge would hold for a while and if it fails they will be charged with having burglar tools in their possession.

SEVERAL GET AWAY.

Several other men got away, but another man, said to have been one of the party, was picked up Friday morning. He gave his name as Hugh Burns. He said he was a teamster and had just drifted into town. He had $50.60 when arrested.

Two of the revolvers were 38-calibre weapons and one was a 45-calibre army model Colt revolver.

The police believe these men have been participating in recent hold-ups or bank robberies in this part of the country, and Friday the officials of the State Bank of Commerce, Effingham, which was robbed recently were asked to come to Decatur and look the four men over and see if they could identify any of them.

When the police called at the house Monday night the men dumped their guns and other paraphernalia into a coal bucket.

9 NEW CITIZENS TAKE FINAL OATH

Public Reception Next Friday Evening.

Nine new citizens were admitted to full rights under the flag Friday morning in the circuit court when N. Selenski, N. Svendsen, J. Bathrop, T. Poulinkowski, G. Olschewski, William Salogga, Gottlieb Oak, Mrs. Augusta Rouschek and Johanna Posch (Sister Fabiana of St. Mary's hospital) foreswore all allegiance to all foreign princes, potentates and powers and became naturalized citizens of the United States of America.

At the same time Mr Poulinkowski had his name changed to Pouley.

Friday evening of next week, at 7:30 o'clock there will be a public reception and entertainment at the Decatur High school auditorium for the new citizens.

The Fellowship club held a pot luck luncheon Thursday night at the Y. W. C. A. There were eighteen members present.

DIAMOND MINING SHOWS EXPANSION

London—(AP)—The alluvial diamond industry in British Guiana, the only British possession in the South American continent, is showing great expansion, says a Colonial report.

The output of diamonds rose from [illegible] stones weighing [illegible] carats of a local value of $1,[illegible] in 1921, to [illegible] stones weighing [illegible] carats, valued $[illegible] in 1922. The increased output attracted the attention of diamond dealers in Europe and America, with the result that between 20 and 30 foreign diamond buyers opened places of business in the colony, causing a rapid advance in prices.

Macon lodge, No. 8, A. F. & A. M.—Special meeting in Masonic Temple tonight, 7:30 o'clock. Past masters night.

LAKE WILL SUPPORT BIG POWER PLANT

S. A. Greeley to Report to Water Company.

DROUGHT NOT FEARED

Study Question of Making Dam Higher.

Samuel A. Greeley met with the directors of the Decatur Water Supply Co. Friday afternoon to make his report to the directors on the feasibility of having the Illinois Power and Light Co. power plant on Lake Decatur.

While Mr. Greeley did not discuss before the meeting what his report would be it appeared from his discussion of the situation that he believed that the lake would insure enough water at practically all times for the use of that company.

NO FEAR OF DROUGHT.

The risk of a drought which would interfere with the operation of such a plant is, thinks Mr. Greeley, rather remote.

According to statistics already tabulated this might occur once in thirty-seven years on an average.

About this detail swings the question as to whether or not the impounding dam should be raised two feet by a permanent addition to the structure.

Because the raising of the lake level to a permanent 612 basis involves considerable investment in raising bridge approaches to be safe in extremely high water the subject is being studied with extreme care by the water company officials.

275 RESERVATIONS FOR A. C. DINNER

Expect to Have 400 At Tables However.

The registrations for the Association of Commerce membership dinner in the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening at which J. W. L. Benham, president of the Associated Traffic clubs of America will be the speaker closed at noon Friday with 275 reservations for plates in the hands of the arrangements committee. Additional attendance is expected to bring the total number at the dinner to nearly 400 people.

The dinner commences at 6:30 o'clock and will be in the Y. M. C. A. annex. Special musical numbers have been provided in addition to the speaking program.

KING GEORGE ENDS HIS PARLIAMENT

British Prepare for Dec. 6 Elections.

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—King George acting on the advice of his cabinet, this morning dissolved parliament in preparation for the general elections to be held Dec. 6. Parliament reassembles December [illegible].

In the prorogation speech the King said:

"My government recently initiated negotiations aiming at the appointment with the collaboration of the United States of a commission of inquiry to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations. Unfortunately it has not been possible to secure the assent of the French government to these proposals.

PROFOUND ANXIETY

"My government regards with profound anxiety the continuance of the present economic conditions in Europe which depend so largely on a settlement of this question.

"Negotiations are proceeding with the United States for the settlement of difficulties with regard to the carriage of liquor in transit and illicit importation into the United States.

EMPLOYMENT WORRIES.

"The position of agriculture and the problems of unemployment continue to cause me deep anxiety. Despite all efforts of my government to stimulate trade and alleviate distress the circumstances of large numbers of our fellow citizens still remain deplorable.

"My ministers are convinced that unless measures for the safeguarding and development of home markets are adopted no permanent improvement in their situation can be expected."

WILL BE HOT FIGHT.

London, Nov. 16—It is predicted that the coming election will be one of the fiercest political fights seen in Great Britain.

Opposition parties feel they have a deep grievance against the premier for "playing a confidence trick on the public" in concealing his intentions and forcing an unnecessary election. Mr. Baldwin's supporters resent this and warmly defend his "honesty of purpose."

SHORT OF FUNDS.

Labor admits itself short of funds and attributes its poverty to the fact that "unemployment and under payment have emptied the pockets of the workers."

Mr. Lloyd George's jibe in the house of commons yesterday that the ministers were going to the country with tin cans tied to their tails to ask a blank check has taken the fancy of the liberal press.
